FEATURING WOLFGANG PUCK CATERING

In the center of the vibrant Arts District of Downtown Dallas, Margot and Bill Winspear Opera House beckons guests with its famed sleek architecture and iconic horseshoe theater.

Designed by the award-winning architect Norman Foster (Foster + Partners), and Deputy Chairman Spencer de Grey, the Winspear is the perfect expression of modern style and symmetry. Every inch of this space is ready to entertain, from the sweeping views of the Dallas skyline in the Prothro Lobby to the Simmons Glass Façade beside the vibrant red-glass panels of the performance hall.

AWE-INSPIRING SPACE.
AWESOME CUISINE.

From the breathtaking views in the Prothro Lobby to the dramatic settings of the Performance Hall, the Margot and Bill Winspear Opera House will captivate your guests while they dine on world-class Wolfgang Puck cuisine.

MARGARET MCDERMOTT PERFORMANCE HALL

Captivate your guests by hosting your reception or seated dinner on the Winspear Opera House stage with views of the audience and chandelier. The Performance Hall features five levels of seating that can host up to 2,200 guests, and orchestra pit arrangements to accommodate the most dramatic sets and technologically-advanced performances.

NANCY B. HAMON HALL

Located on the first level, this recital hall features architectural acoustics and built-in sound and projection systems for any occasion. The multifunctional Hamon Hall, with an entrance from inside the Winspear Opera House and a separate entrance from Sammons Park, allows simultaneous performances within the Winspear Opera House.

C. VINCENT PROTHRO LOBBY

Welcoming guests upon arrival to the opera house, the Prothro Lobby offers spectacular views of Sammons Park and the Dallas skyline - a perfect setting for any special event.

BOX CIRCLE LANDING

The Box Circle Landing provides one of the most beautiful and intimate settings in Dallas on the Winspear Opera House's second level. With dramatic views of the eastern portion of the Arts District, the Box Circle Landing can accommodate a range of events, from small gatherings to large receptions.

SKYLINE TERRACE

Located on the fourth level of the opera house, the Skyline Terrace features sweeping views of Downtown and Uptown Dallas.
