WHISKEY FLIGHTS

THE SCOTCH FLIGHT

Springbank 10 Year

A prime example of the whisky distilled in Campbeltown. The peat is present but not overpowering and a hint of salinity reminds the drinker of the coastal locale. Some cereal sweetness is there as well.

Cragganmore 12 Year

This sherried Scotch has nice maltiness on the nose and palate. Citrus, almonds, and biscuits are also present. The finish is slightly smoky and peppery, giving it some added complexity.

Dalmore 18 Year

Rich, fruity, and spicy, this whisky is full and flavorful. Fourteen years in American oak is followed by four more in sherry butts and it shows. Vanilla, stewed fruits, and toffee are all present.

THE JAPANESE FLIGHT

Nikka Miyagikyo

Produced at the Miyagikyo distillery in Sendai, Japan, Nikka Miyagikyo is an excellent introduction to Japanese whisky. It's full-flavored and rich, with exotic fruit, baking spices, and malted barley standing out on the nose and palate.

Yamazaki 12 Year

An excellent example of the similarities between Japanese whisky and Scotch, the Yamazaki 12 embodies the malty and floral qualities many Japanese whiskies are known for. It's light and floral, with subtle citrus and winter spice notes.

Hakushu 12 Year

Hakushu is known as the "Forest Distillery", tucked away in the woods around Mount Kaikoma. The distillery produces a lightly peated whisky with fruity and grassy notes. You'll find pear and green apple on the nose with subtle smoke lingering throughout.
