Badshah song lyrics

Picture: RCA Records Label There's nothing quite as uplifting as an inspiring power ballad when you're feeling down, or as energizing as a fast-paced dance melody while exercising. And when you can't get out of bed after a soul-crushing break-up, the rousing I'm-over-you tracks can come to the rescue. In these ways (and many more), pop music has the power to touch everyone. Songs of this genre dominate the U.S. Hot 100 Billboard chart for a reason – the radio plays them nonstop, and a record number of Americans buy, download, or stream them. From prolific pop icons like Madonna, Britney and Beyoncé to lesser-known artists who top the charts with one or two infectious songs, these talented artists know how to get hundreds of thousands of people on their feet. They also have a knack for releasing catchy singles that we all end up knowing the words, whether we like it or not. Are you one of those who always have a pop song played in your head? Anyone who was a pre-teen probably remembers the awkward slow dance, new tank-tops from the mall, and screamed along with every word of pop-radio hits. Songs from the late 90s and early 2000s may seem like a distant memory now, but at that time many of them were iconic. Looking back on the era, there are definitely some lyrics you completely forgot existed until now. Every once and a while one of these songs will play, in a clothing store or on the radio or on an ironic party playlist, and these words will take you back to that middle school auditorium. Several genres thrived in the late 90s and early aughts, and both decades were a period of growth for alt-rock, rap and hip-hop, and pop music. While some of the more popular songs didn't exactly invent genres or experiment in new ways, they were really fun. Whether it was the soft rock of Anna Nalick or one of Enrique Inglesia's slow-dance staples, you may have forgotten some of these songs. There is no time like the present to re-listen and remember the texts that, for better or for better or for better, shaped your teenage years. 1 Too Little, Too Late — JoJoLong before Taylor Swift declared that she never ever get back together with an ex, JoJo was penning pop break-up hits. Every seventh grader definitely listened to this after a middle school break up, which everyone knows means no more sitting together in the cafeteria or group dates to the movies. It was tough back then. Memorable Lyrics: I'll say this now / Your chance has come and gone / And you know / It's just too little, too late / A little too long / And I can not wait2Just the Girl — The Click FiveAtlantic Records on YouTubeIf you forgot, protagonist love interest in this song runs on 100 proof attitude power. She is therefore still striving for all these years. Memorable Lyrics: Cause she's bittersweet/ She knocks me off of my feet/ And I can't help myself/I don't want anyone else3Closing time — SemisonicIf this one hit doesn't immediately ring a bell, it will come back to you as soon as the piano notes play. It's everywhere from the movie opening credits to the background of your favorite 21st century TV show, and even now it's a tough song to escape. Memorable Lyrics: Closing time / Turn the lights up over every boy and every girl / Closing time / One last call for alcohol so finish your whiskey or beer / Closing time / You don't have to go home but you can't stay here / I know who I want to take me home. 4Big Girls Don't Cry — FergieThis song, which was one of Fergie's first songs after the Black Eyed Peas, was a slow dance staple. Also, can we talk about what an absolute nostalgia-fest this video is? Product Placement On Candies! Milo fake tats! What a time in 2006 was. Memorable Lyrics: Lyrics: I'm going to miss you like a kid misses his blanket/ But I've got to get a move on with my life/ It's time to be a big girl now/ And big girls don't cry 5I gotta Feeling — Black Eyed PeasBlackEyedPeasVEVO on YouTubeSpeaking by Fergie, who could forget about this super smash hit by Black Peas Eyed? Back in 2009 this was the number one song to get you pumped for a night out, and if you weren't tired of it at the end of that year, now is the time to bring it back. Memorable Lyrics: A feeling, woohoo, that tonight will be a good night / That evening will be a good night / That evening will be a good, good night6It will be me — NSYNCSpending about what big boy band of the 2000s was your fave, it may have been a time in your childhood where you knew every word to every single NSYNC song. While Bye Bye Bye may be the group's most famous song, for the true fans, this song was just as important. Memorable Lyrics: Baby, when you finally / Get to love somebody / Guess what / It will be Jag7Hand In My Pocket — Alanis MorissetteAlanis Morissette on YouTubeIt's a shame that most Alanis songs are now relegated to background music; it's time to knock these out for belting purposes. It's hard to pick the singer's most singing along worthy tracks, but this one is definitely up there. Memorable Lyrics: "clears my throat" I got one hand in my pocket, the other gives a high FEEE-III--VVVVEE8Breathe (2pm) — Anna Nalick Admit it - this song still makes you emotional in 2017. Nalick's hit ballad stuck for a reason, as it intertwines several sad stories and brings them into a heartfelt chorus. It's the perfect sad pop song. Memorable Lyrics: 'Cause you can't jump the trail, we're like cars on a cable / And life is like an hourglass, glued to the table / No one can find the back button, girl / So cradle your head in your handsAnd breathe ... just breath / Oh breathe, just breathe 9Hero — Enrique Inglesias EnriqueInglesiasVEVO on YouTubeThis song played at every single dance and other school event that I went to in middle school and high school. So many uncomfortable slow dances were shared to this song, I don't know if I'll ever forget the lyrics, but maybe you did. Memorable Lyrics: I can be your hero baby / I can kiss away the pain / I will stand by your side foreverDo you think Augustana ever found where they were going? This song's chorus traveled all over the continental United States, and even after all this time, it's hard to forget that journey. Memorable Lyrics: I think I'll go to Boston/ I think I was tired/ I think I need a new city/ To leave all this behind11Mrreplaceable — BeyoncéWhile we all bow down Queen B for her last two albums, which are by all measure masterpieces, you might have forgotten this radio hit from the early aughts. Beyoncé has had so many topping hits the top list, but this song was absolutely everywhere all year year come out. Memorable Lyrics: Everything you own in the box on the left/ In the closet that's my stuff, yes/ If I bought it, don't touch12Hey There Delilah — Plain White T's HollywoodRecordsVEVO on YouTubeThe Plain White T's had a true moment with this song, and it would go on to be their only classic. Despite the bands one-hit wonder status, this acoustic ballad was such a success, it can be far from completely forgotten. Memorable Lyrics: Hey there Delilah/ What about New York City?/ I'm a thousand miles away/ But girl, tonight you look so cute13American Boy — Estelle Ft. Kanye WestThis song had so many memorable collabs it's hard to believe it might have gotten lost over the decade. John Legend has a cameo in the video, and a very young Kanye West shows up to release a verse. This upbeat jam was so much fun, and is definitely worth listening to again. Memorable Lyrics: Take me on a trip, I'd like to go one day/ Take me to New York, I'd love to see LA/I really want to come kick it with you/You'll be my American boyThese songs were total classics. Classics.
