

The activities of our high school years will long be remembered as wonderful memories and experiences, for they are the most valuable of our lives. Within the world of new experiences at school, the students find many doors open to them and others which must be opened by them. The education they will receive is waiting for them, but as with any closed door, they must use the key to enter into the realms of knowledge. Their key is an eager and open mind. The students who enter these doors will not only find the opportunity to acquire the basic skills necessary for their future vocations, but can pursue further their major interests through the many clubs and organizations offered to them. And finally, those who achieve their goals will be rewarded in becoming mature citizens of the world in which they will enter after graduation.

As we, the Class of 1965, move out into the world on our own, closing behind us many doors but opening new ones to the future, we are truly indebted to those who have made our education possible; the teachers, our parents, and the nation in which we live as a free American democracy.

"Money, money, everywhere, and every dime well spent."

Dedication

As the Class of 1965 leaves the halls of Marshall High School to seek the door of opportunity, one of our warmest memories will be that of friendliness and helpfulness, a door unlocked and opened by Mrs. Alvin (Doris) Taylor, Secretary to the Principal, to whom we dedicate this Dial.

Perhaps one of the reasons that "Mrs. T" is so enthusiastic over the activities of MHS is because of her own fun-filled high-school days here at Marshall High. An avid sports enthusiast, "Fuzzy" participated in four years of G.A.A. We got a glimpse of her sports abilities in her cheerleading antics on Hoedown Day. She was also the clerk of the former Bicycle Court, in the days when bicycles were an important means of transportation. Her theatrical talents were displayed as she took part in the class play, June Mad, and vocalized in an operetta. As an outgoer in clubs, she was a member of Usher Club and secretary of Latin Club for two years. She was also exchange editor on the school paper. Judging from her personality and good sense of humor, it is easily understood why she was voted as the most slap-happy girl and best dancer of 1942.

As we know her today, she is more than a secretary. She and Mr. Taylor have two boys, Larry and Bruce, keeping them busy when not helping out with some activity here at school. Many students like to stop in and talk with Mrs. "T" when they have some spare time. She is willing to listen to their problems and offer advice, as well as share in the excitement of good news.

It is for these reasons that we have chosen to dedicate this yearbook to you, Mrs. Taylor. Because of your personality, we feel that our high-school days have been just a little bit better, and a whole lot nicer for having known you.

A typical day — Hoe-down Day, that is — at work.

Students

Opening the door to the student section we find many active students engaged in studies and various school functions. Besides fulfilling their roles as students, they find the time to make new friends, participate in class plays, clubs, athletic events, and other extra-curricular activities.

Sponsors and officers of the senior class were Mrs. Neuman, sponsor; Gail McKenna, secretary-treasurer; Don Anderson, vice-president; Nyal Deems, president; and Mr. Wuori, sponsor.

Seniors

As we, members of the Class of 1965, close the door on one chapter of our lives, many memories of the past four years will linger in our minds for years to come.

At the outset of our high-school days, we made the jump from junior high to the building with "the big kids." We may have been just a little scared by it all, but the excitement of the activities open to us for the first time seemed to blot out the fear. For the first time, we had our own class officers, and we elected Don Anderson as president, Bob Moon, vice-president; and Linda Crawford, secretary-treasurer. Jenni Barger represented the freshman class at Homecoming. With the help and guidance of our sponsor, Mr. Fleser, we were provided with the counsel and steering we could carry on through high school.

Feeling more a part of school life, we entered our sophomore year with vast and varied enthusiasm. We began our first fund-raising efforts for the Class of '65 by working on the "Puff Ball," guided by our sponsors, Miss Davis and Mr. Morse. John Currie, Kathy Hoeltzel, and Kathy Meservey led us as class officers, and our Homecoming attendant on the queen's court was Chris Fisher.

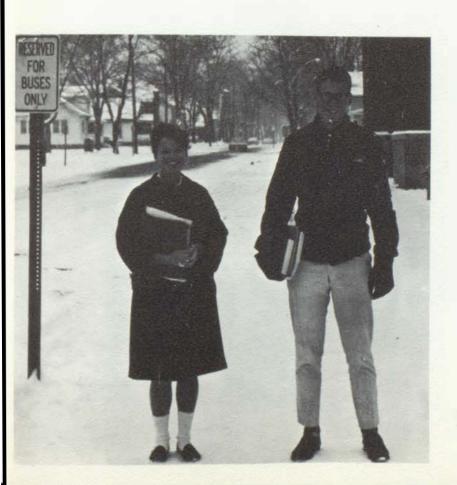

Our junior year was filled with even more activities in which to participate. The highlights of that year were putting on the J-Hop for the seniors and producing a class play for the first time. We worked diligently on the magazine sale to earn funds to meet the expenses of the J-Hop and add to our class treasury. Our sponsors, Mrs. Storr and Mr. Avery, worked with our class officers, Don Anderson, John Bastian, and Mary Lou Allen, to make our junior year a success. Linda Crawford was chosen as the attendant on the queen's Homecoming court. During the summer, Pam Belda attended Wolverine Girls' State, and Roger Colberg, Nyal Deems, Mike Gage, John F. Miller, and Tom Stealy attended Boys' State.

We began our senior year in anticipation of our last year in high school, but with a touch of sadness at leaving high school and our friends. But there were many events which provided unforgettable memories for us to treasure in future years. Beginning with Homecoming, we worked on the pink elephant float, and the senior boys chose Chris Fisher to reign over the Homecoming festivities, and Ted Orwig was her escort. Homecoming was a success with our victory over Sturgis. Next we began the hectic rehearsing for the senior play, The Thread That Runs So True, which was presented December 5, 1964. The DAR (Daughters of the American Revolution) Good Citizenship Award was presented to Angie Rewa, as well as the Future Homemaker of America award; John Bastian and Ken Bagi were given all-conference recognition in football at the end of the season; Linda Crawford was the senior attendant on the queen's Homecoming court; and Jorg Heusinger from West Germany was our exchange student. Our class officers were Nyal Deems, Don Anderson, and Gail McKenna, while class sponsors were Mrs. Neuman and Mr. Wuori. After the last formal, the J-Hop, came Class Day, Baccalaureate, and finally, Graduation.

Copy editor Jeanie Stewart displays the spirit with which she pursued her duties.

Mary Lou Allen is surprised as she spends a night session working on the Dial.

Jörg Hartwig Heusinger

This year's foreign exchange student, Jörg Heusinger, came to us from Burkburg, West Germany.

Well liked by his many friends at Marshall High School, Jörg enjoyed many activities with them, and became an active participant in school life. His intelligence and sense of humor added interest to our classes, and he and his camera came to be a familiar sight at athletic events and school functions.

While here he visited many places in the area, and could be found in attendance at numerous civic affairs.

Jörg has enjoyed his stay in the United States, and found our students friendly and outgoing. We hope he enjoyed being here as much as we enjoyed having him.

Faculty and Administration

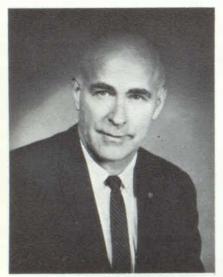

The student body of MHS has been fortunate in having an excellent faculty and administration. Their guidance and personal interest in each student as an individual has greatly encouraged the student's response to their efforts. The teachers have been more than willing to spend extra time with the students in helping solve their problems, and to find time and energy to sponsor clubs. Because of our fine faculty and administration, many memories will long be treasured by the students.

School board members this year were Mrs. Jack Twist, secretary; Mr. Joseph Schroeder, vice-president; Mr. Morris Stulberg, trustee; Mr. Bruce Gray, Superintendent of Schools; Mrs. George Kibbie, president; Mr. David Foster, treasurer; Mrs. Ruby Henry, trustee; Mr. Walter Hendrickson, trustee.

Athletics

Starting the year with kick-offs and touchdowns, and ending with home runs on the baseball diamond, athletics are an important element in high-school life. The boys who participate in sports find the game worth the effort of many long hours of practice. Besides learning control through discipline, they learn the value of determination and strategy in competition. They develop resilient bodies and alert, keen minds through the rigid training and requirements demanded of them. And finally, they receive due recognition for their accomplishments from the support displayed by the students.

Doing an outstanding job of coaching during their first year at the varsity helm were Coaches Martens and Washburn.

Under the direction of Coach Washburn and Assistant Coach Martens, the Redskins compiled a 3-3-2 record in all games and a 3-3 conference record. Pennfield 6-6

Marshall's opening game turned out to be a defensive battle as a wet field and opening game jitters held down the offensive drives of both teams. Pennfield scored late in the second quarter after a Marshall fumble on the Redskin 30. Led by the hard running of Bob Covill, Marshall tied the score in the fourth quarter on a 32-yard drive to paydirt. Marshall had two more chances late in the quarter as they had the ball on the Pennfield 10-yard line on two different occasions, but failed to move in for the score.

Quarterback Bob Moon crashes over the goal line for the Redskins' first touchdown of the year against Pennfield.

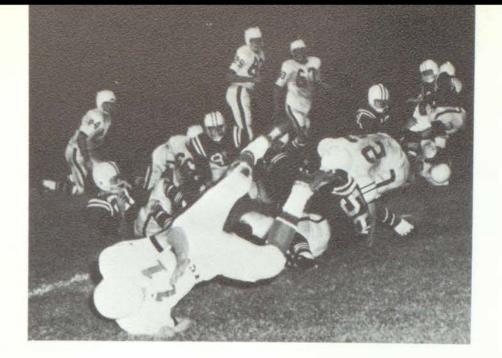

Co-Captain Mike Clayborn is tumbled by a Hillsdale defensive player in Marshall's first Twin Valley game.

The fathers of our Redskins were honored the of "Dad's Night."

Hillsdale 7-26

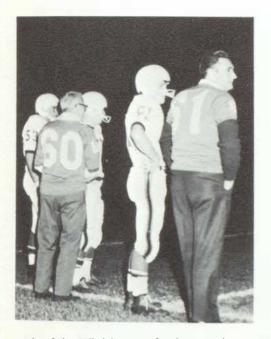

Hillsdale's Hornets brought their No. 1, Class B, rated team into town and looked like true state champs as they won a hard-fought battle with the Redskins. An outstanding backfield carried the Hornets in for three scores in the first half. Four fumbles and two pass interceptions held down the Redskin drives until late in the fourth quarter when the hard running of Mike Clayborn and the passing of John Schneider took Marshall in for the score.

A solid Three Rivers tackle resulted in this Marshall fumble which fullback Bob Covill recovered.

Three Rivers 14-18

Marshall was upset in a close battle on the home field by the strong Wildcat passing attack. Marshall scored in the first and third quarters on short runs by Bob Covill and John Schneider, but couldn't contain the opponents despite 21 tackles by Jon Summerfield. Three other Redskin drives were bogged down by penalties as a desperate Marshall 11 failed to make the all important touchdown.

night of the Hillsdale game for the annual recognition

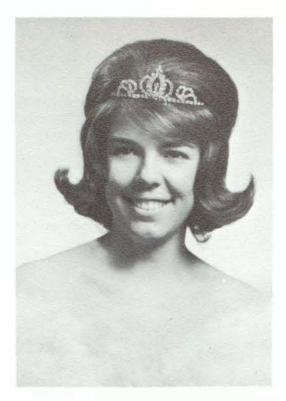

Harper Creek 19-0

Marshall's offense exploded to swamp the Beavers and score their first Twin Valley victory of the year. John Schneider and Harry Crandall led the "new look" offense, each scoring a touchdown, along with Mike Kelly. The Redskins had two additional touchdowns called back as they dominated play during the entire game.

Homecoming 1964

October 12, with the announcement of the queen and her court, initiated Homecoming, 1964. Large numbers of workers crowded the fair grounds to work on their first individual class floats in four years. Winding and shouting, the snake dance progressed to the athletic field where the annual bonfire and tug-of-war were launched amidst a sea of spirit.

Curious creatures could be seen roaming the campus on Friday, Hoe-down Day. Rambunctious students flooded the gym in a frenzied state of emotion. Friday afternoon the Dalton Boys led a hootenanny preceding the pep rally. In the evening, anticipation mounted as the parade journeyed down Michigan Avenue to the athletic field. Anxiety reached a climax as the Redskins stormed onto the field.

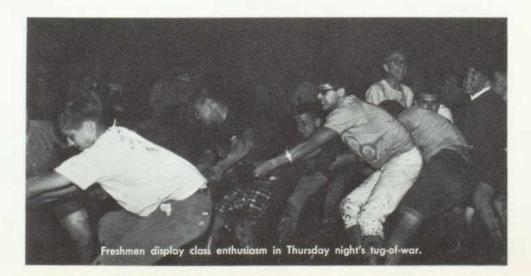

The Redskins did "Stomp the Trojans" as depicted by the seniors' pink elephant.

Attentions were focused in all directions at Friday's hootenanny.

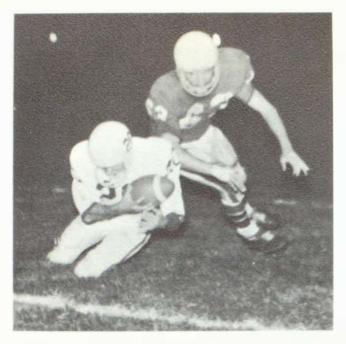

Halfback Mike Kelly drives over the center for a short gain against Sturgis.

Sturgis 26-14

Win No. 2 came easily for the 'Skins as they smashed the Sturgis defense for their biggest yardage of the year. Harry Crandall again led the way with three touchdowns, including one scamper for 73 yards. Nyal Deems scored the other touchdown on a pass play from John Schneider. Sturgis scored with 58 seconds left in the second half, but never really threatened Marshall's domination of the game.

Co-captain John Bastian brings down a Coldwater back after an intercepted pass.

Coldwater 7 - 13

Marshall came from behind to win their third straight Twin Valley victory over the Cardinals. Trailing 7-0 at the half, the Redskins had complete control over the last two periods of play. John Schneider swept left end for the 'Skins first score and then connected on a 17-yard pass play to Russ Huggett in the end zone to put Marshall out ahead.

Fullback Harry Crandall bulls his way through the Coldwater line.

Lakeview 0 - 0

Lakeview finally stopped the 'Skins, as strong defenses stalled the scoring threats of both teams. Marshall was the only team to penetrate the opposition's 20-yard line, as they drove to the Spartan 1, late in the third quarter, before a personal foul blocked the drive.

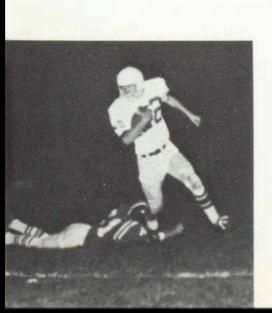

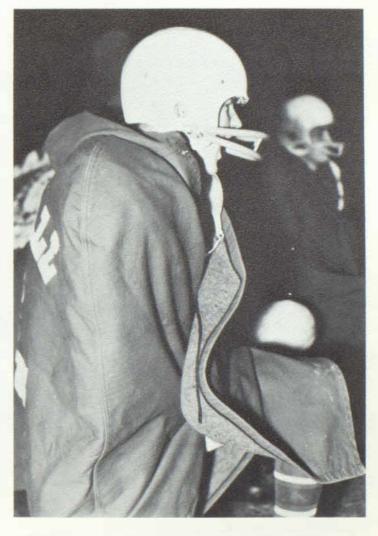

John Zink and Larry Taylor bring down an Albion back sweeping left end.

Albion 42 - 6

Traditional rival, Albion soundly trounced the Redskins in the final game of the season. Led by an outstanding backfield, the Wildcats controlled play during the entire game as they gathered 19 first downs to Marshall's eight. The Redskins' score came in the fourth quarter when Mike Kelly picked up an Albion fumble and scampered into the end zone.

Bob Moon and Fred Irwin keep up spirit on the Redskin bench.

Marshall also placed second in the Class B regionals, missing the championship by just one point, and tenth in the State Cross Country meet.

The 1964-65 basketball season was one of the most successful in recent years. Only the 1960-61 team, which posted an 8-8 record, did better. Marshall was 7 and 10 during the regular season, with a 5 win, 7 loss record in the Twin Valley where they finished fifth. The highpoint of the season was the 84 to 81 home-court victory over Sturgis, making this only the second time in a decade that Marshall has defeated the Trojans.

Tennis

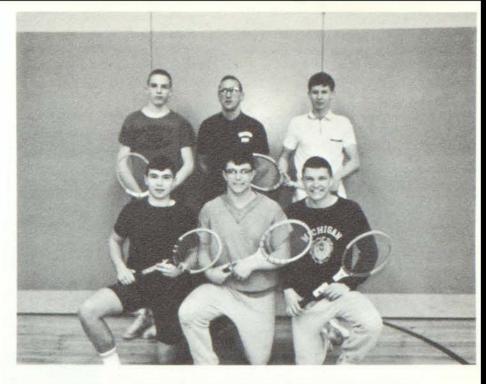

From April to June, Marshall's tennis courts were dominated by energetic netters competing for their laurels. This year Coach Klein's team had five returning lettermen: Bob Moon, Ron Chisholm, Bruce Cook, John Davis, and John Bastian. For the upcoming season the team was rated co-favorites in the race for the Twin Valley title with Sturgis.

Golf

Practice began early in the spring for the season's golf meets. Aided by the experience of four returning lettermen, Coach Vander-Geest's golf team began the season with high hopes. The team was also helped along by a series of lessons given by Don Clark, pro at Binder Park golf course.

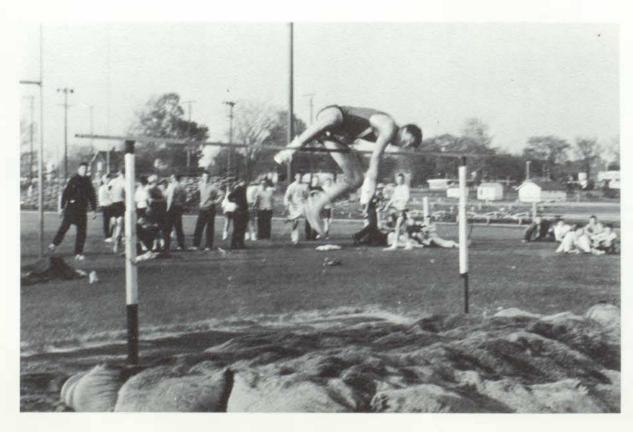

Varsity golfers this year were Paul Mestemaker, John Martin, Tom Stealy, and Roger Colberg.

Track

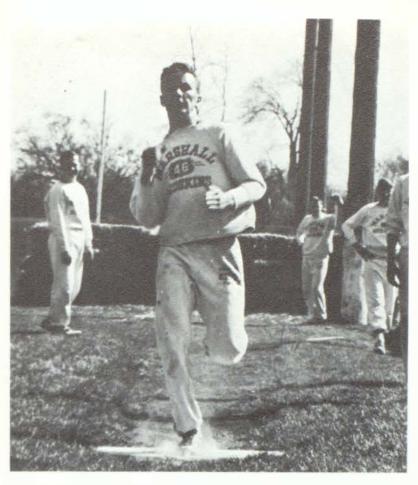

The Marshall thinclads have racked up two straight Twin Valley championships and are shooting for number three this spring. A sizable number of lettermen have returned from last years' team which placed 3rd in the Class A regionals and captured the Marshall Relays for the second straight year, making the prospects good for another championship.

Baseball

Marshall won its third straight Twin Valley championship last summer. Under the leadership of Coach Cooper and his assistants, Coach Fleser and Coach Grundman, the Redskins compiled a 17-7 record in league play and built a strong nucleus for the coming season. They lost only two of the 13 lettermen from last year's team. Marshall was also host team to the Connie Mack Great Lakes Regionals where they were eliminated after three games.

Organizations

Because of the many various kinds of clubs and organizations at MHS, the students are able to serve their school and community in many different ways. These extra-curricular activities instill enthusiasm and give the individual the opportunity to show leadership and earn recognition through these clubs. As the foremost purpose of organizations, the participants find a situation in which their knowledge in specific subjects and areas can be broadened and where they can feel accepted by others.

Student Council

The Student Council, under the guidance of Mr. Morse, is a function of the student body made up of representatives elected by each of the four classes. During the year, the Council undertook many activities that benefitted the school. Some of these projects included sponsoring the Christmas Ball, holding a clothing drive and book fair, and they co-sponsored the Homecoming dance with Varsity Club.

Industrial Arts Club sponsors and officers were Mr. Carlyon, sponsor; John Boyd, co-chairman; Mr. Rauth, sponsor; Jim Reyer, co-chairman; Mr. Davis, sponsor; Jerry Maisner, treasurer; and Mr. Gilchrist, sponsor.

Now in its second year, the Industrial Arts Club promotes interest in the complexities of industry, as well as providing opportunities for high-school students to further their knowledge in the field of industry. Plant tours are planned through area industries such as Albion Malleable, Checker Cab Company in Kalamazoo, and Permabilt. The students also partake in individual projects as part of the continued learning objectives to extend their understanding of industry.

Debate

Poise, ability to do research, organization of thought and material, and the ability to separate fact from assertion are the most prominent aspects of successful debating. Each year the Michigan Forensics Association chooses a topic to be debated by high schools throughout the nation. Debate helps the participants gain more personal insight and the ability to consider both sides of an issue logically. Besides debate, an accelerated class is also available to students: forensics. As debate coach, Mrs. Slater led Marshall High School's debaters to success and achievement during the 1964-65 season.

In the process of becoming future secretaries are Cathy Gabriel, Gail Mc-Kenna, and Jan Horton.

Secretarial Club

Secretarial Club is open to those who are interested in secretarial and office work. Its purpose is to encourage interest and increase knowledge in this field. The club held a Christmas party and two dinner parties during the year. Each member must have completed or be enrolled in at least one year of shorthand.

Art Club

Art Club was sponsored by Miss Pierce and officers were Mike Langan, president; and Linda Noreyko, secretary-treasurer.

Barely existing in its second year, the Art Club's few members meet once a month to try and collect dues which are not paid. The club meets on Monday nights to oil paint and work on individual projects—if enough people show up. Otherwise, the kids join the Adult Art Class which is in full swing in the next room. This would-be club sponsors a dance or two to make some profits so as to finance a trip to an art museum, for which kids turn out in flocks to go.

Biology Club

Organized to help students who are interested in exploring the possibilities in the field of biology, Biology Club offers many educational activities to stimulate the students' interest. With Mr. Kelley as sponsor, the club made an excursion to Chicago to tour the museums and took part in other activities during the year.

At the head of Biology Club this year were Jane Bischoff, vice-president; Linda Burlingame, secretary; Mr. Kelley, sponsor; Doug Lowery, president; and Judy Noreyko, treasurer.

Latin Club

Organized to inspire more interest in the Latin language, the Latin Club provides many activities to encourage students to study it more thoroughly. Initiation for new members was held in the fall, and the club participated in such activities as a hayride in the fall, and a trip to Echo Valley.

French Club

The main objective of Le Cercle Francais is to promote interest in the French language outside of the classroom. Students must have completed one year or be presently enrolled in order to be eligible or membership. Noon meetings are held on the first and third Thursdays of each month, and evening meetings are held once a month. During the year, the club took part in fund raising efforts and hosted other French clubs from around the area.

French Club officers were Betsy Huggett, program chairman; Pam Belda, secretary-treasurer; Carol Crumrine, vice-president; Miss Norris, sponsor, and Ted Orwig, president.

Spanish Club officers were Angie Pewa, secretary; Mrs. Martens, sponsor; John Ramos, president; Chris Fisher, vice-president; and Dan Meza was treasurer.

Spanish Club

Spanish Club's primary purpose is to give students the opportunity to explore the Spanish language. Meetings are held once a month with native Spanish-speaking persons as guests. Spanish Club is open to anyone taking Spanish or has had it previously.

Pep Club

Pep Club, in an attempt to stimulate more school spirit, engaged in making many signs during the year. Posters were made for football and basketball games, and were displayed throughout the halls and in the gym. In this manner, Pep Club succeeded in keeping the students enthusiastic throughout the entire year.

Leading the activities of Pep Club were Miss Smith, sponsor; Cheri Glen, president; Trina Vander-Veen, secretary-treasurer; Darlene Wood, vice-president.

National Honor Society

A high honor shared by only a chosen few juniors and seniors each year is to be selected for membership in the National Honor Society. The qualities considered in selection are scholarship, character, service, and leadership. Juniors must maintain a B+average and seniors must have a B average. Only as much as 15% of each class may be accepted, and after being chosen by the faculty, new members are initiated by the present society at a special assembly held second semester. The purpose of the society is to develop the individual completely in all areas of school life.

Miss Merritt Sponsor

Political Club

A newcomer to the organizations at MHS, the Political Club, being created in the spring of 1964, has had a tremendous response from the students interested in politics and their government. The main purpose of the club is to stimulate in the students an interest in governmental affairs and create interest in the political parties of the country.

During the year, the club sponsored many activities such as the mock election in the fall, in which the students learned the process of voting. In the spring they held Government Day, with students taking over the positions of our city government for a day. Then the model United Nations was held at Hillsdale College, with the members of the club representing two nations of the General Assembly. Also in the spring, the club made a trip to the state legislature to view the process of making laws in our state.

Library Club

Library Club this year consisted of a library staff under the guidance of Mrs. Reyer and Miss Bullock. By assisting students and helping them find books, the staff gains experience in library work and learns the fundamentals of library techniques.

The library staff consisted of Margorie Music, Kara Reagle, Stephanie Winters; (back row) Barb Sweeter, Janet Grodavent, and Miss Bullock, head librarian.

Doug Lowery and Penny Miller served as co-presidents in Bible Club, Miss Wingate was sponsor, and Carol Damon was secretary-treasurer.

Bible Club

The Bible Club of Marshall High School provides the students to become better acquainted with the Bible. Students of all faiths are welcome at the weekly meetings where a speaker or clergyman is often present. The members meet with other students of similar interests for fellowship outside of church and have an opportunity to be better Christians.

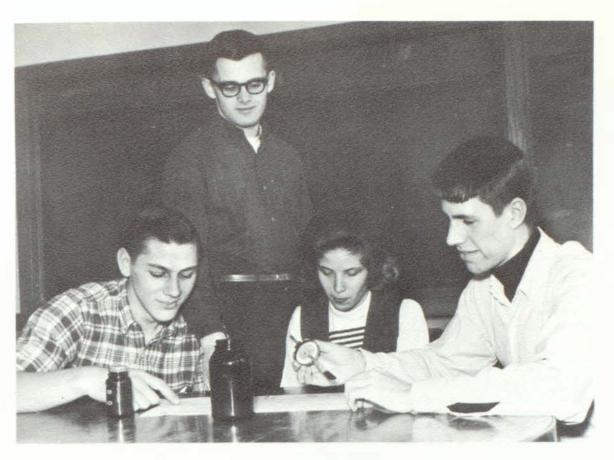

Marcy Desy, a two-year Co-op student at Petroff's, adjusts the products on the shelf,

Co-op Club

Co-op Club at Marshall High School has the distinction of having the largest co-oper ative training program in Michigan for schools of this size. The members of Co-op Club are those students who are associated with some area employer on a part-time basis so they can learn about a particular field of employment. During the year, the club sponsors dances to raise funds for their employer-employee graduation banquet. The club is sponsored by Mr. Strough.

Co-op student Ron Clark gets instructions from his father at Gordon Clark's Auto Repairs.

Publications Staff

Mr. Riley Director of Publications

Creating the MHS student handbook and faculty directory were two of the Publication staff's major achievements. Along with this, they published such indispensible items as the junior and senior play programs and various other publications pertaining to activities within the school. Under the leadership of their editor, Durrell Banfield, the small but capable staff worked hard and accomplished much, ending their year of publications successfully.

Dial Staff

Putting out the annual Dial involved many long hours of work outside the scheduled journalism hours. Contrary to the other two staffs in the journalism department, the Dial staff worked towards one finished product, striving to record the events of the past year in an attractive yearbook. In recording the past activities, the staff tried to create a yearbook that would become a treasured possession of the students and faculty, in which they could look back and recall many memories of previous years.

Highlight Staff

The Highlight, our weekly school newspaper, was anxiously looked forward to by the faculty and students throughout the year. Combining changes and improvements over the previous year's school paper, with many extra hours of work on their own, the staff completed a prosperous year of Highlight editions which were enjoyed by everyone at MHS.

Editor John Bastian puts in many extra hours while working on the Highlight. Assisting him are Ann Vaughn, Peg Thompson, Mary Underhill, Vicky Henry, and Angie Rewa.

Entertainment

Entertainment is an important part of school life as a parallel to academic classes, and MHS had many extracurricular programs for both the student body and the citizens of Marshall. In addition to the dances held almost every Friday night, the more formal occasions came with the G.A.A. formal and the J-Hop. There were many concerts put on by the bands, orchestras, and choirs, an all-school musical, and two class plays presented during the year. All of these events combined to make our school year well supplied throughout the year.

Junior Play

"No Boys Allowed"

No Boys Allowed, the play presented by the Class of 1965, was enacted February 15, 1964, under the direction of Miss Burlingame and Laura Alexander, student director. Written by Jean Provence, the three-act farce concerned a girls' slumber party invaded by a group of boys and the "Midnight Prowler" in the absence of Rita Baxter's parents.

A country schoolhouse in the rural area of Kentucky was the setting for the senior play, "The Thread That Runs So True." Presented December 5, 1964, the career of young Jesse Stuart, an eighteen year old boy with a deep desire for teaching, was the basis for the three-act comedy. While teaching there, Jesse finds many problems to solve, but he finds compensation in the girl he later marries, Naomi Deane. The play was an account of the true experiences of Mr. Stuart and was directed by Miss Burlingame, and student director Ann Lortz.

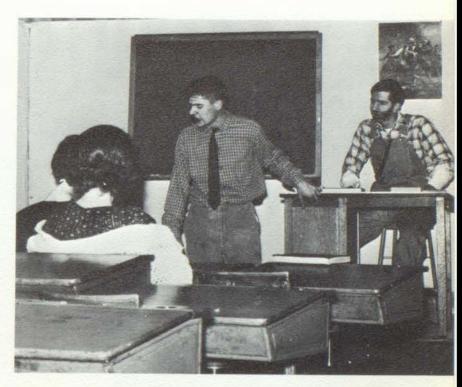

"No wonder they're callin' this the 'courtin' school."

G.A.A. Formal

A fantasy of childhood fairy tales provided the setting for Marshall High School's annual winter semi-formal. Held January 16, the theme for the dance was "Storybook Lane," and was sponsored in the tradition of past formals by the Girls' Athletic Association. This event is unique in that all the work is done by the girls, including asking the boys.

The decorations were done in a panorama of colorful figures depicting such characters as "The Cow Jumped Over the Moon," "Jack and Jill," and "Little Boy Blue." The table decorations were done in blue and pink canopy beds from the story "Little Red Riding Hood." The music, provided by Jerry Campbell's Jumpin' Jacks, plus the decorations, combined to make "Storybook Lane" an enchanted evening.

Becky Winter and Brian Hice take time out for refreshments.

Enjoyable dancing music was provided by the "Jumping Jacks."

"Teahouse of the August Moon"

As everyone passed through the lounge and over the flower-twined bridge, they entered into an enchanted Japanese setting for the 1964 J-Hop on May 16. A lilystrewn brook, lined by glittering rocks and swaying willow trees, created the Oriental atmosphere for the annual formal. The walls were decorated with picturesque figures of rickshaws, parasols, fans, and Japanese character symbols. Lew Boyd and his Orchestra provided the music, while Marsha Bender and Bob Ulrich provided amateur entertainment.

CLASS OF 1965

BE//Er Studio

E. G. ROSE

The admiration and respect felt by our student body, and shared by all preceding classes, is well deserved by Mr. Rose. His understanding and reassuring presence has become a part of our lives.

Through the years, he has spent long hours at the task of successfully running our school. His wise and experienced counsel has given reassurance and self-confidence to many juniors and seniors as he advised them on their senior year and their future after graduation.

Along with his competent management of his administrative duties, his active and continual support of school athletics and the personal interest he has taken in each of us have contributed greatly to our attitudes and experiences of our high-school years.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks for the time and care he has given to us. His capable leadership and many years of service will always be remembered by MHS.
