MHS Is Unique

Marshall High has a uniqueness. It is a large school, yet small enough to lend closeness to each respective class. Throughout the school, not an event can occur in this school without affecting many if not all students.

When Terry Mahrle reigned as District and Regional Champ in wrestling at 126 pounds, the anticipation and support for him started and continued all the way through his State Championship. His perseverance affected the whole school.

Riding through town during Home Tour, Patty Hoeltzel and Blain Cornwell seem to be quite happy

Showing their spirit during the Spirit Festival assembly are the seniors.

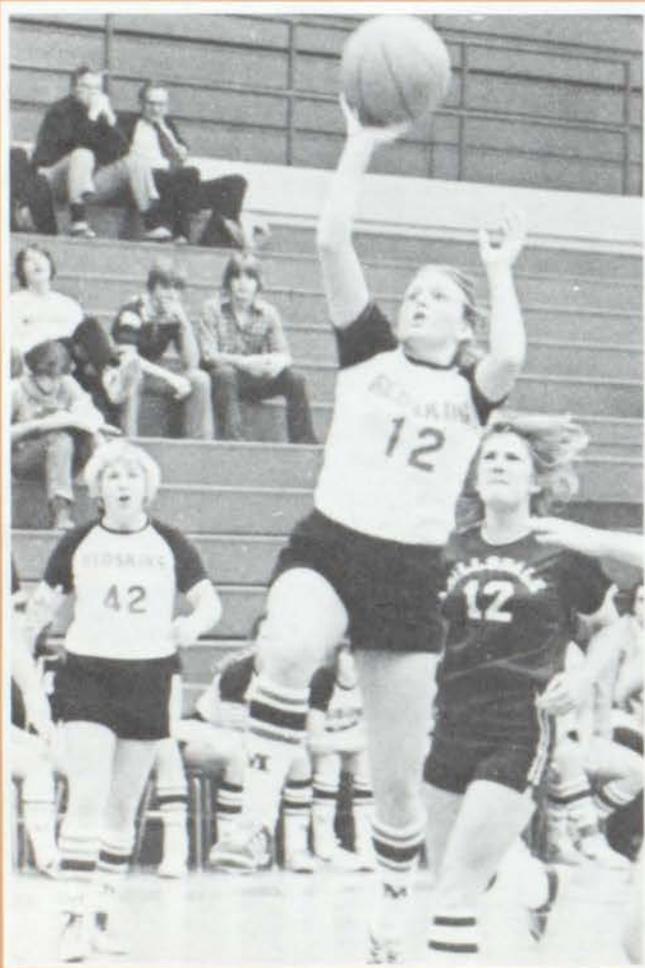

Smiling pretty before their Junior Miss talent acts are Lisa Simmons and Lora Jason.

Keeping the school in working order is Mrs. Taylor.

There is a lot to do during spirit festival and Mr. Labadie helps out by timing the class pyramid competition.

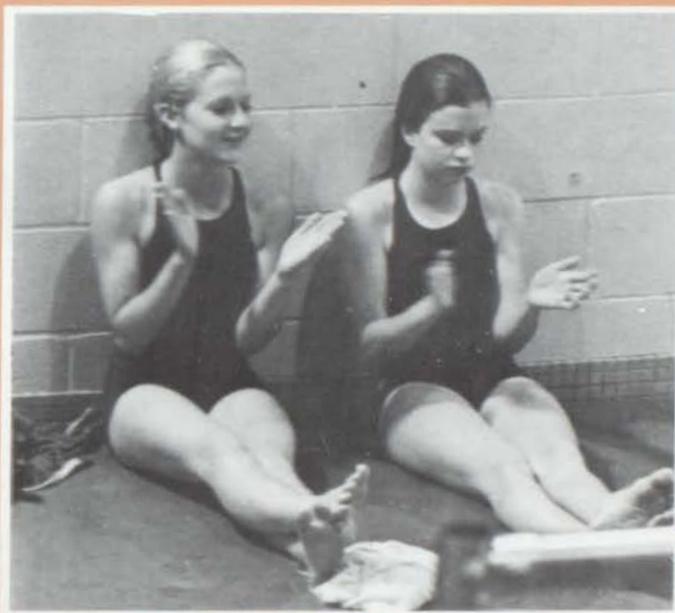

Going up for a lay-up is senior Redskin Lisa Simmons.

Concentrating on her history assignment is Leanne Zephro.

Consulting Mr. Cronk on a problem in History is John Hagerty.

Two Redskin swimmers, Melinda Varner and Mary McAuliffe, cheer the team on.

Studying some interesting specimens in Biology are some underclassmen.

Classes Can Conquer Anything

The 1978 Football team boasted a 7-2 record while once again "Redskin Spirit" was generated by the fans and sparked electricity on those cool Friday nights. Redskin basketball fans had never shown more enthusiasm as they did the night Marshall played to a near-upset of Twin Valley Champs and much-favored Albion in District Tournament play. Who can deny being proud when our band brings home Division I ratings every time they go to competition, or when the Cross Country Team qualified for the State Tournament, as well as the Girls Tennis Team.

No matter what happens at MHS, meets, matches, wins, losses everyone students, teachers, and administrators are a part of the action by being involved. All classes of MHS have the ability to pull together and join forces. This was shown throughout. There were even times when each class bonded together. Whether for a Homecoming Victory, or a Hamburger Enjoyment Contest, all classes ended up as one force — ready to conquer anything.

The End Is Near

Finally, at the end of the year; at the end of all the wins and losses, adjustments and triumphs, laughters and tears, another event ultimately affects the whole school. The seniors graduate, leaving the under-classes to lead and leaving the great adjustment of breaking in the new freshmen. They must prepare for their four eventful years of High School and watch them fly by faster than one can imagine.

The sophomores show that they really can build a human pyramid.

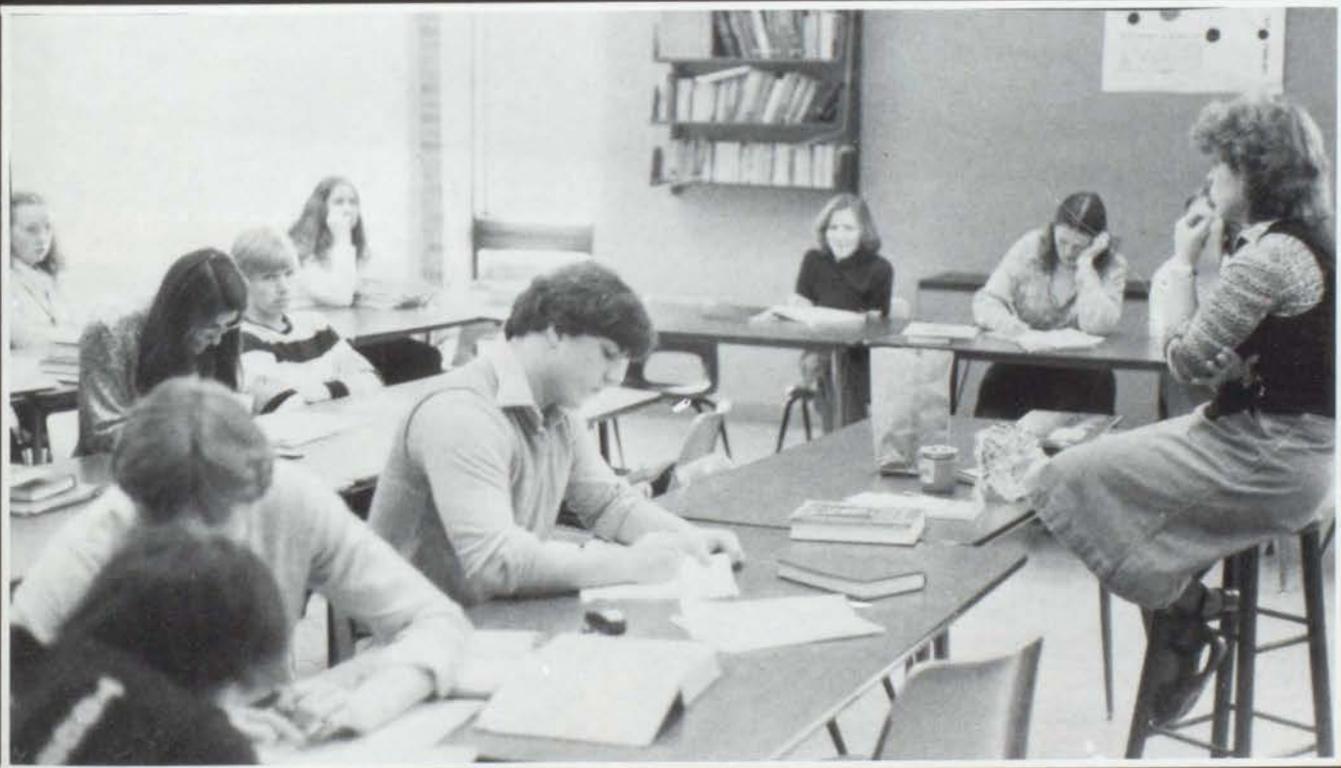

The day is done and a lone soul finishes another day.

STUDENT LIFE

Heidi Klein Reigns as 1979 Queen

The Homecoming Attendants and escorts were chosen in the same way as years before at MHS, but this year all classes 9-12 voted on the Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming Queen for 1978 was Heidi Klein and her escort was Tom Wuori.

Chosen as the Senior Attendant and Escort were Kelly Monahan and Glen Rauth.

The Junior Class selections were Mona Bidwell and Dave Flint.

Representing the sophomores were Jolene Flynn and Jeff DeVries.

The freshman chose Angie Weatherly and Gary Bradshaw to represent them in their first year.

Home-coming — One to Be Remem- bered

Homecoming 1978 was one to be remembered. This is due in part to the closeness of the total points between the junior and senior classes.

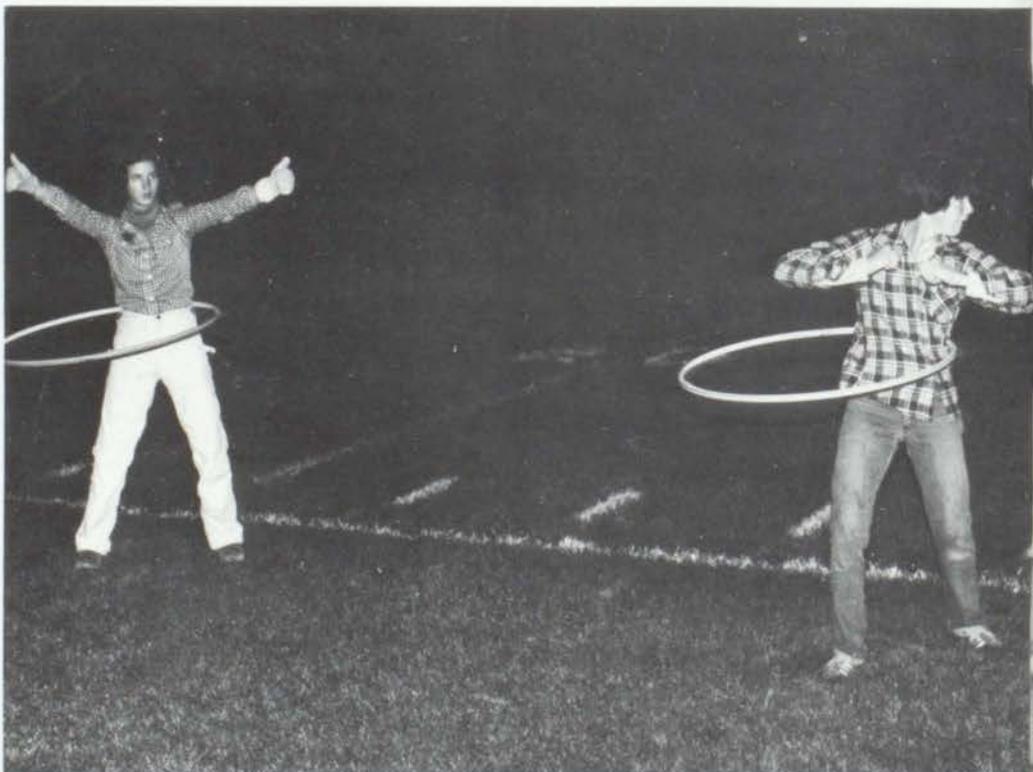

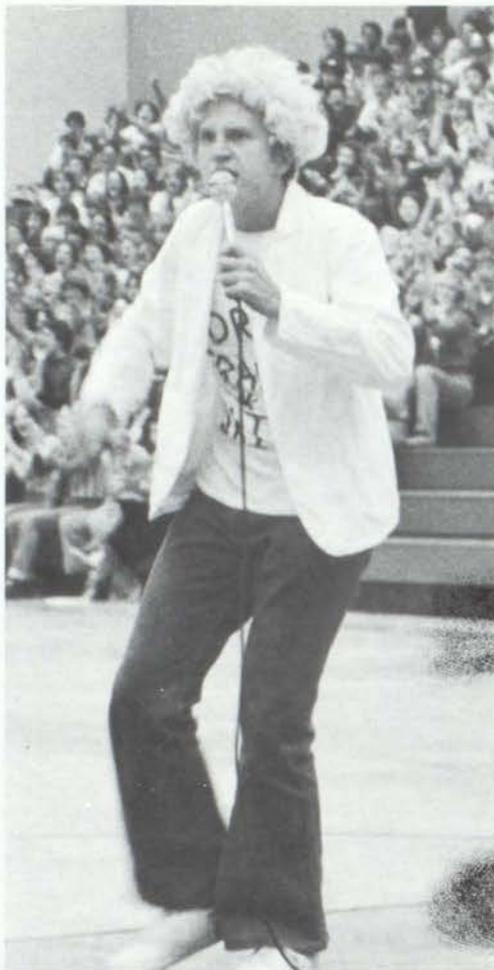

The sophomores started their second year by winning the gunny sack, spider, egg/spoon, and wheelbarrow races.

The junior class joined together to win, the hotdog and marshmallow eating contests as well as the football push, rope jumping, boys and girls frisbee toss, the couple relay, and lawn display.

The seniors finished their last homecoming by taking firsts in the United Fund collection, tea drinking, jelly bean toss, "Big Mac" eating, girls and boys hula hoop, and for the fourth year in a row, the tug of war.

Our beloved Mr. Burns gets into his mad scientist act during the skit.

Competing in the Hula Hoop contest are Seniors Lori Hamilton and Dave "sqrnt" Clem-

Ray Davis and Renee Colvin "chow" on hot-dogs for the Junior class.

Carol Cascarelli and Mike Mumaw are enjoying a leisurly lunch of 5 Big Macs.

Phillip Lasky raises his fist in attempt to indicate that the sophomores are #1.

When the Points Were Tabulated

When overall points were tabulated the results were: in first place, the Juniors with the Seniors just a few points behind, followed by the Sophomores, and in last place, the Freshmen. Although the competition was great between each class, everyone joined forces the night of Friday, October 13th, Homecoming Night, to cheer the team on to a 32-14 victory over the Hastings Saxons.

With her face painted, Elizabeth Masters is ready for Homecoming.

The tricycle race was off to a slow start but finally heated up, delivering the juniors in first place

Everyone Is a Winner

"And now, Marshall's 1979 Junior Miss, Jody Hodoval!", with a shriek of excitement and a sigh of relief, the big announcement is finally made after over two months of rehearsals. Nearly 40 girls dedicated themselves to the late night rehearsals and hours of grueling practices in hopes that they might have a moment of glory.

The annual pageant sponsored by the Marshall Jaycee's and Jaycee Auxiliary is sure to draw a full house on both Friday and Saturday nights when it is presented. Chairman of this year's pageant was Gary Heckett. Celebrities from around the state came to judge this two night gala.

Lisa Simmons brought the packed auditorium to their feet with her impersonation of Barbra Streisand which eventually brought her the Jean Livingston award for Creative and Performing Arts. Cheri Jacobs was awarded for her Scholastic achievements while Terri Gillett and Marcella Leggitt were named as co-winners of the Miss Congeniality award. Placing 2nd runner-up was a surprised Nora Wynne, while the 1st runner-up was given to Jeanene Heidenreich. Then came the big moment with the announcement of Jody Hodoval as Marshall's 1979 Junior Miss. The crowd rose to their feet to congratulate all of the girls on a job well done which proves that, truly, everyone is a winner.

Being a little cowgirl, Lori Hamilton amazes the audience with her talent presentation.

Contestant Nancy Doyal is escorted by her father while anticipating a night full of excitement.

Trying to believe it all, Marshall's new Junior Miss, Jody Hodoval, looks out over the crowd.

Showing the togetherness that Junior Miss involves, Jeanene Heidenreich is congratulated by Nora Wynne and Cheri Jacobs.

With a sigh of relief, the contestants pose for a group picture with the award winners up front.

Skillful Drama Department

The M'HS Drama Department showed their skill as they performed such difficult plays as "Diary of Anne Frank", "Arsenic and Old Lace", and the ever popular Musical "Once Upon a Mattress". Technical crews and actors worked many long, hard hours behind the scenes, and under the spotlight to present a perfected show once the curtain rose.

The year started off with "Once Upon a Mattress." Barb Bicknell starred as 'Fred' the tom-boyish princess in a musical take-off of the "Princess and the Pea." Randy Lake played her prince charming.

"Diary of Anne Frank" proved that the drama department could succeed in performing a play which was 'sophisticated' and 'heavy' in quality. Laura Brown played Anne, the young Jewish girl in hiding during World War Two.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" rounded off the season with Vicky Avery and Anne Oren playing the two spinsters. In their spare time, they added arsenic to the Elderberry wine and served it to prospective boarders.

One, Two, Three O'clock Rock

Hey all you chicks and greasers, the 1979 50's dance, sponsored by the seniors, was the hip place to be. You were to be there or be a square!

In preparation for the '79 50's dance, a group of spirited seniors under the sole direction of Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Burns worked diligently to perform a promotional skit for each class.

This year's dance proved to be quite a bash with at least 500 people in attendance. Bobby socks, pegged pants, and long skirts and leather jackets passed by in a blur as kids rock-n-rolled to the tunes of 1950-1960 hits.

The limbo contest brought out the hidden talents of Cherri Jacobs, senior, and Bruce Hansen, a freshman, who both took firsts in that event.

Helen Selee and Steve Rivard took the dance contest honors this year. Next to Helen and Steve, the most original dancers had to be Sara Day and Dave Meade, who took second place. So what is so original about that, one might ask. Well, Sara twisted and bopped with a cast on up to her knee. Pretty original huh?

Best dressed awards for the evening went to Todd (Myron Weidner and Nora (Lulu) Wynne.

To round out the evening book store certificate and albums were given out to students for door prizes and runner-up gifts, making it a fun-filled, all out, crazy night to remember.

Posing for the camera are Mary Samson and Terry Clutter.

Making the 50's dance more exciting is Big Daddy Armstrong.

Taking time out to act cool are Tim Oldham, Todd Gillett, Steve Rapp, and Scott Goodall.

Marshall High students hop to the sounds of the 50's music.

Seniors Last Appearance

Graduation ceremonies went without a hitch thanks to the organization of Mr. Burns and Mr. Wuori.

After an hour or so of practice the morning of June 5, the seniors felt that they were ready for the real thing. With luck shining down upon the stadium, the rain held off for the remainder of the day.

After the parade through town, the gowned class of '79 lined up to make their last appearance as high school students.

The graduation party at the Marshall Country Club, put on by the parents, proved to be a great success. The band "Voyage" and plenty of munchies were provided, as well as a good time.

Marching down the aisle to accept her diploma is Cindy Conner.

Groups Keep Us Entertained

This year, MHS students gathered in the gymnasium for such things as pep rallies, led by the seniors, pep club, and other various groups.

Entertainment such as Free Fare, The United States Navy Band and other organizations always kept the crowd of students in good spirits. The pep band always provided enthusiasm among the crowd and always seemed to keep them cheering.

Outstanding Students Recognized

The Awards Assembly is a once a year event for MHS that faculty and students both look forward to in anticipation of recognizing those students who have excelled in a particular area.

Among the awards presented were the Bill Holt Award and Steve Wasielewski Memorial Bookstore Award.

Other presentations made included scholarships from Marshall Teachers Association, Beta Sigma Scholarship and Business and Professional Women's Scholarship.

Several universities and colleges also presented awards to several Marshall High School seniors.

Other areas where awards were given were Drafting, Drawing, Electricity, Latin, Biology, Social Studies, Home Economics, Agriculture, Industrial Arts, Art, Music, Math, English, Woods, Journalism, Theatre, French, Debate and Forensics, Spanish, Business and Physical Education.

Receiving their awards for outstanding effort in Theatre Arts from Miss Ralston are Randy Lake and Laura Swalwell.

This years recipients of the Bill Holt Award are Heidi Klein and Russ Penning.

Pictured above are MHS Students who won departmental recognition at the annual awards assembly.

Receiving an award from Mr. McDougle is Larry Ouenbach.

Unexpected Results At Festival '79

Spirit Festival came in with a bang and out with a squeak this year. Some unexpected results came out of Spirit Festival '79.

The Sophomores pulled out 8 first place events including Class Window, Words (unscramble) Egg Spoon Race, Math (mult.), Tug-O-War, Badminton and a tie with the seniors in Ping-Pong.

The Juniors emerged victories in the Basketball Bounce, Famous??, Couple Relay, Free Throw, Name That Tune and Shuffleborad.

The Seniors could just not seem to "get it together" after that close fight with the Juniors during Homecoming. Taking first in the Class Pyramid, for the second year in a row, Pizza Eating, and tying with the sophomores in Ping-Pong, and with the freshmen in Class Bingo were the seniors.

And doing well for their first year, the freshmen took firsts in Math Division and Class Bingo.

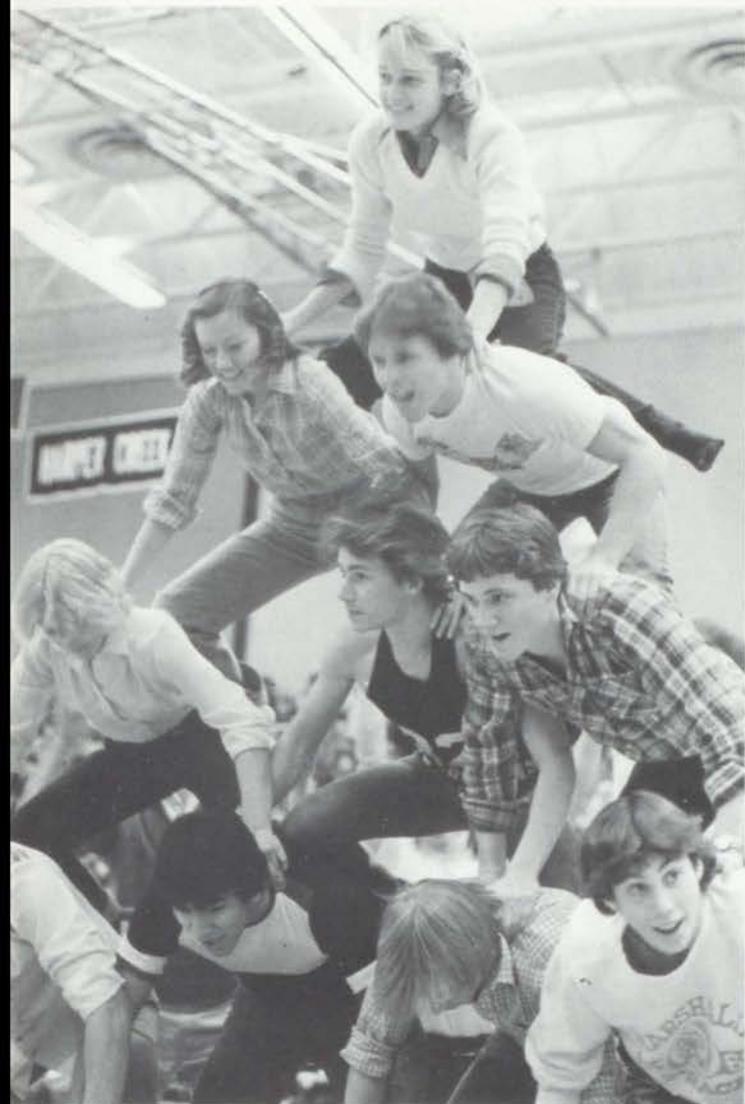

When the final points were tallied, the juniors came out on top with 88 points; the sophomores trailing a close second with 84; the seniors signed in with 79; and the freshmen contributed 53 points for their first Spirit Festival.

Although we lost the Spirit Festival game, spirits were high among students.

Emotions Ran High That Night

Emotions ran high as the class of '79 assembled for the last time to bid a fond farewell to the community and to friends during Class Night '79.

Acts ranged from the serious to the ridiculous as the seniors put on a show that will be remembered by all as the best class night ever put on in Marshall.

Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Burns, and Mr. Sturdevant steered the seniors through a time in their lives that will be cherished by all who participated.

This was not just another opening to a show, this was Class Night '79.

"No, no, no!" screamed the bowling pins as bowling balls, Todd Weidner and Glenn Rauth attempt a strike.

Class Night

One of the Best

Class Night ranked right up near the top, if not the top class night ever presented.

Mr. Burns once again master organized the whole night of skits and rowdiness. And, of course, did an excellent job. This dedication and spirit is to be awed.

Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Sturdevant, Todd Ryan, Ms. Harting, and Ms. Ralston also worked wonders with mobs of seniors just waiting to be set loose.

Many, many long hours were spent perfecting dances, skits and songs that enabled the Class of '79 to go out with a bang.

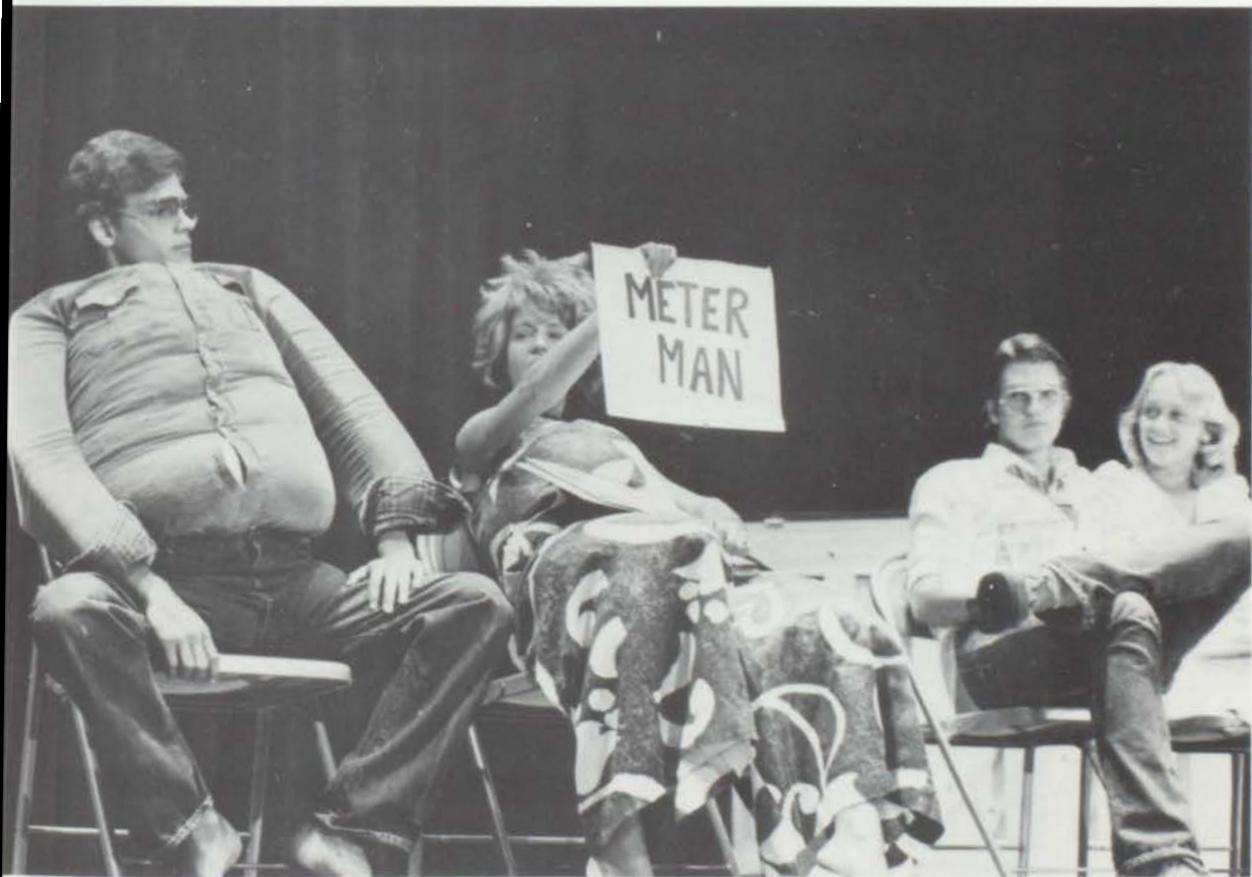

Some of the skits that highlighted the show were: "Nacho Cheese Freaks," "Junior Missed-Out," "Ex-Marshall Cops," "The Newleywed Game," and "Queen Tut."

The seniors once again joined together for the last time together as a class and deeply felt the words of their closing song, "Now we've finally reached the end, but will never forget a friend."

The senior class of '79 opens their show with "Another Opening, Another Show."

Todd Weidner leads "The Nerds" in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Giving her response to a Newly Wed question is Cindy Johnston.

Class of '79 Will Meet the Challenge

Graduation to some is an ending, to others it's only a beginning, a time to start new adventures and to meet new friends.

The class of '79 promises to meet the challenges that ever-demanding society places upon them.

Eugene Hamaker, president of Midwest Metalurgical Laboratory in Marshall, gave the graduating seniors the advice of work. As potential members of the work force the speaker told them that nothing will come to them unless they work for it.

The class of '79 has established themselves as a class of workers — surely they will succeed in any venture that they attempt.

Freshmen Joined Forces

"Wow, we're freshmen!", they exclaimed. With this new-found responsibility, the Class of '79 joined forces for the first time. Under the inspiration of Mr. Brian Burns, the freshmen boiled and bubbled their way into Homecoming '75 by taking a 1st in Float Competition, and finally exploded and seized an overall 1st place berth with the juniors. This was quite a feat for a new class.

Sophomores Show Enthusiasm

Sophomore year brought the class back one year older and one year wiser, but with the same enthusiasm as the year before. Trying their hardest they took the Float Competition for the second year in a row and even strained their vocal cords to blast into a Class Competition victory. And if that wasn't enough, the Class of '79 only missed out of a 2nd place position by 1/2 of a point. This year had a new twist with a Spirit Festival. While making money for their class treasury, the sophomores again took a third place.

Bonds Grow Stronger As Juniors

Junior year was the regrouping year. The bonds between the class as a whole grew stronger every day. Breezing through Homecoming and Spirit Festival, the juniors found it time to plot and plan the annual Junior-Senior prom, the J-Hop.

Placing their orders for the 1979 Dial are Julie Flint, Brenda Redfield and Nancy Phillips.

Romantic Theme for J-Hop

Mr. "Arnie" Armstrong headed the class up, and worked diligently to create a romantic yet overall likable theme for the J-Hop. "A Night of Mystical Magic" was finally decided on, and the long nights of work began. Spring Fever struck the juniors, and rowdiness prevailed. Work was completed and the final project was magnificent. Anxious and anticipating, the juniors looked ahead to their Senior year.

Taking time before leaving school, Gloria Potter cleans out her locker.

Ready and Determined

Homecoming came in with the subtlety of a cannonball. The last homecoming for this class was laced with determination to make it great. The class of '79 had never seen such fervor as when preparing for Homecoming '78. They were ready and everyone knew it. The seniors made a great showing by taking 2nd place, only 2 points behind 1st.

Fun Filled Festivities

Spirit Festival brought its usual party-filled festivities. Such as the notorious 50's dance sponsored by the seniors. Many bucks were made to add to their meager class treasury. Well, in every senior's mind only two more things were left to accomplish — Class Night and, of course, graduation.

Senior Fever Strikes

As Seniors this class was struck by Spring Fever, but as seniors, a new and more contagious bug was rampant — Senior Fever. And it seems that the only cure for that itchy bug is graduation.

So, with Class Night and graduation, the Class of 1979 reflected upon their four years of high school and fun but still be glad it was over.

Senior Power! We're Number 1! These are just two of the exclamations that came from senior mouths, with justification too. It has taken 4 long years for them to get where they are. Many nights of homework, many days filled with tests. But there were also many days and weekends filled with rowdy fun.

Although it may seem that 9 months is a lifetime, to a senior graduation and Class Night come to greet them with the speed of light.

High school, which once seemed so new has done its job. Through all the years of preparation, Homecomings, old friends, new friends, and just super rowdiness, the seniors have done all they can do now to prepare for new and more exciting challenges.

A Season to Be Proud of

After losing 18 of 22 starters the skins had a great season, losing only two closely fought battles out of 9 games. The highlight of the season was the 32-14 Homecoming victory over previously unbeaten Hastings in front of 5000 fans.

The Redskin's total points through the season was 197 to only 84 scored by their opponents.

Russ Penning and Steve Rivard were named MVPs. Russ was also named MVP. Mike Holmes was named most improved player and the Oil Can award was given to Steve Rivard.

Named to the All-Conference first team were Russ Penning (both offense and defense), Bill Patterson, and Roy Shepard. Both Patterson and Penning were named to the Detroit Free Press All-State first team. Second Teams consisted of Steve Rivard (both offense and defense), Frank Harris, and Honorable Mention went to Jack Birck, Tony Bunham, and Todd Clutter.

Overall, the 1978 football season is one to be proud of. Coach Labadie says there are some holes to be filled at linebacker and offensive and defensive line positions, but with 16 returning lettermen, he is optimistic about the outlook on the 1979 season.

Frosh — J.V. Look Promising

After a poor starting season of 0-3, the J.V. football team finally got it together bringing the season to a close with a respectable 3-4-1 record. Coach Burger attributed this to the hard work and cooperation the players had. The team's major goal this year was to become more confident in their abilities as football players. "We had to become believers and rid ourselves of a losing attitude", said Coach Burger.

He said that the team was in the position to win most of the games they lost, they experienced some crucial mistakes that prevented them from succeeding in those games.

Reversing their 4-3 record this year, to 3-4 the frosh football team still remained looking tough. Coach Triece commented that the frosh didn't reach their standard of good play which they had hoped, but that they did play a very good game, probably the best of the season, in the end making next year look very encouraging.

Mike Jinnings, Mitch Peek, and Brian Whittaker were to be commended on their defensive play, and that recognition should go to Mike Jinnings, Greg Mahrle, Mitch Peek, and Mike Mumaw for the offensive plays.

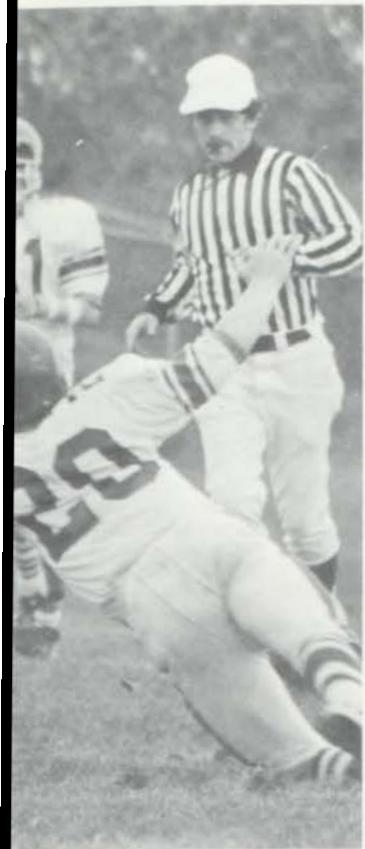

One of the best points of the season coach Triece pointed out was the win over Harper Creek and Pennfield. He looks forward to next year and says it could be a very good season if the players develop a winning attitude.

Never a Better Netter

As in past years, the Varsity girls tennis team turned out a fantastic record of 11 wins and 2 losses. The netters placed 3rd in twin valley with Sturgis being the only conference team to defeat them. Behind Most Valuable player and captain Heidi Klein they went to the State finals. After many long hard matches, the Racqueteerettes didn't do as well as they expected. Never fear, though, according to head coach Ms. Belson, the team can be even better next year if they get out and compete in some tournaments in the off-season. Apparently some girls have already done this as the Most improved player award was given to Sue Tymkew. Kelley Caron received the "Court Queen" honors for giving up the fewest games through out the season. The Netters should keep up their fine record in the future, for they have many experienced underclassmen returning to the courts in 1979.

With a "take that" expression, Heidi Klein returns the ball

With sheer determination, Sue Tymkew plays the net

Girls Season Impressive

The girls swim team ended their season with an impressive record. Holding a 6-8 dual meet record, the team also had 7 members that qualified for the state meet; Lori Bessler, Suzi Bessler, Amy Hiedenreich, Sandy Irving, Deb Peekstock, Francie Russell, and Pam Searle.

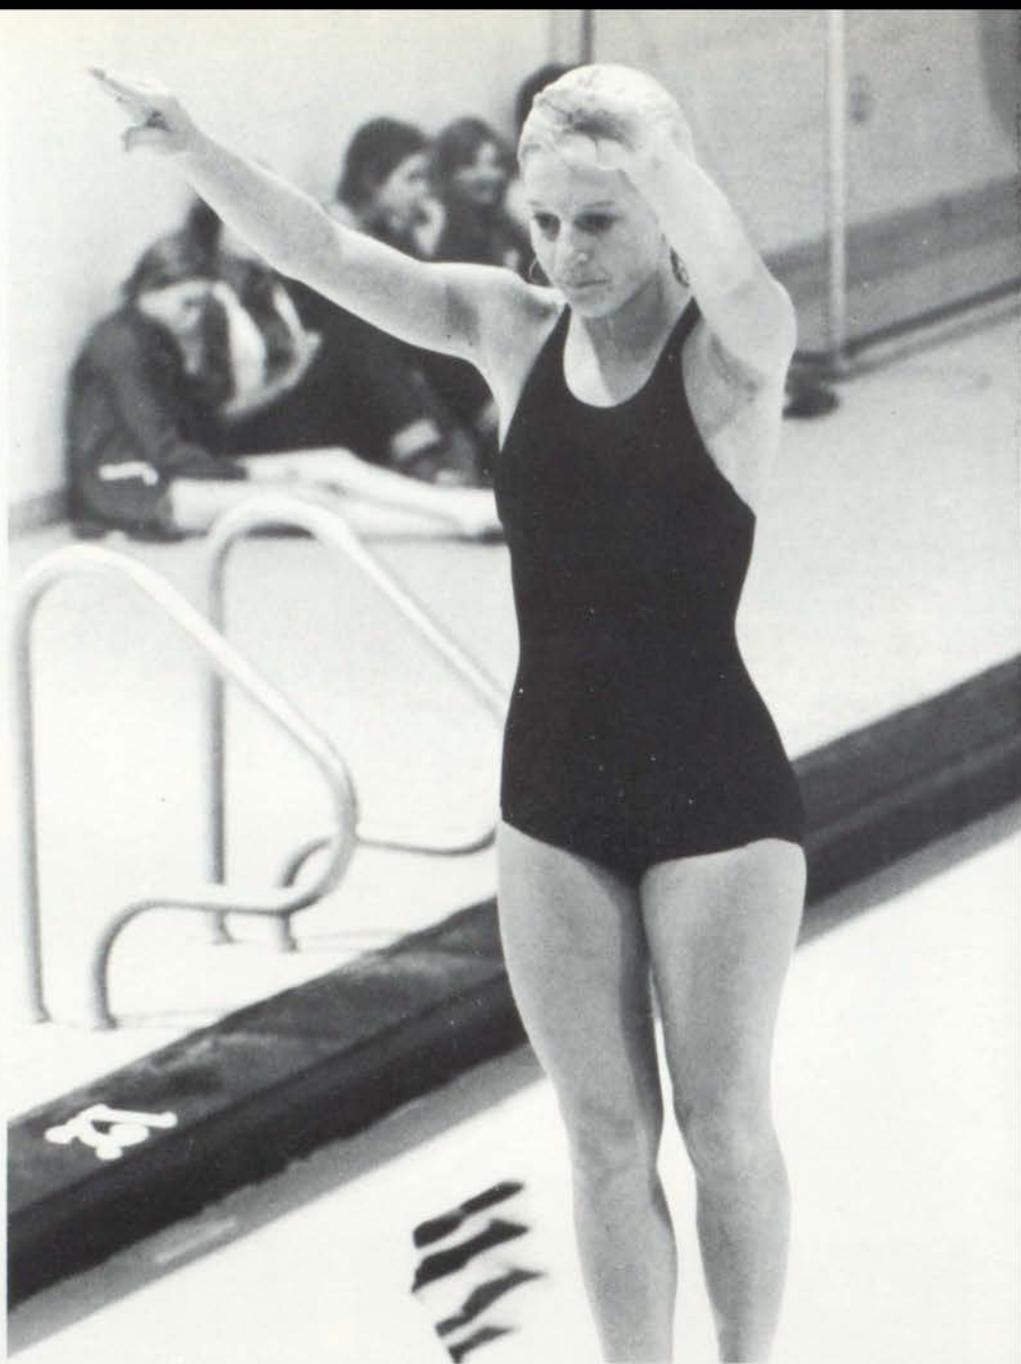

The girls also finished well in the Harper Creek Invitational. Sandy Irving received first place in diving and there were also individual records broken. Also each member of the team bettered their own times giving each girl an individual accomplishment.

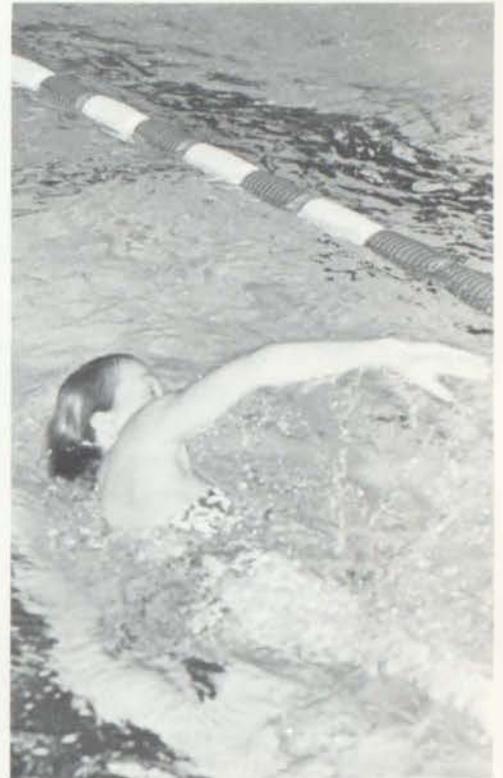

Coach Terri Clock was very pleased with the team's performance this year. "The team had to make due to the new coaches but all the girls adjusted well". Miss Clock said she is looking forward for more girls to go to state and that they will have a winning season.

The team was led by co-captains Deb Peekstock and Sandy Irving. The Valuable swimmer award was given to Deb Peekstock and Julie Osborne received the most improved swimmer award. Miss Clock also stated that Francie Russell and Suzi Bessler helped the team and stood out above the others.

A look of concentration and perfect dive seems to be all Melinda Varner is thinking about.

Harriers Finish 10th in State

Boasting a 13-1 victory in dual meets this year, the Cross Country team had much to be proud of. The only loss the Harriers suffered during the season was by a one-point difference in Jackson Lumen Christi's favor, who ended up 3rd in the state.

Proving their goals were definitely not far out of reach, the Cross Country Team after beating Harper Creek, took the Twin Valley Title, were Regional Champions, and finished as high as 10th in the State Meet.

Coach Barney Roy has high expectations for his team next year. Fred Bisel, this year's #1 runner, will be back as well as much improved Dave Flint and Terry Mahrle. More encouragement comes from the fact that the J.V.'s won their 2nd straight Twin Valley Title this fall.

A few last minute words are given to the ponies by Coach Roy.

Striving to reach the finish line is Redskin pony, Todd Weidner.

Records Made to Be Broken

"Is it here yet?, "Make sure it's on a Friday, we have a big game Thursday". IF YOU WEREN'T A member of the 1978 girls basketball team, you may not have understood these expressions. These were the comments made to the coach Tom Duffy until the birth of baby Sara Lynn.

Varsity cagers produced a season with the help of seven returning lettermen. The Redskins completed the season with a 6-12 record.

Records were made to be broken as demonstrated by freshman Sal Degraw when she placed a new account of 193 rebounds in one season. The total team as a whole placed many new records in 1977 including: Most Free Throws in a Game, Most Free throws in a season, best free throw percentage in a season, and best free throw percentage in a game. Sandy Nason was named most valuable player, while junior Lil Smith was given the most improved award.

The junior skins lacked in experience what they gained in enthusiasm. With a team dominated by freshmen the squad produced a satisfying record. All the players were cited for good sportsmanship and an undying will to work. With such a young team, Coach Mary Stelma has quite a year to look forward to. A rebuilding year pays off in experience what it doesn't receive in glory. Hang in there!

Jumping high above her teammates and opponents, Barb Jelinek reaches for the hoop.

Keep Your Eye on 'em

The Boys Golf Team, coached by Mr. Reynolds, ended the season by finishing 5th in Twin Valley.

Mr. Reynolds commented that a lack of consistency prevented the 'Skins from having a real good season. He also said that one golfer who played up to his ability all season was Jim Barr. Jim was this year's Regional Champ, which is a tremendous honor, and he also participated in the State meet.

Coach Reynolds says the outlook on next year depends on how the returning golfers improve.

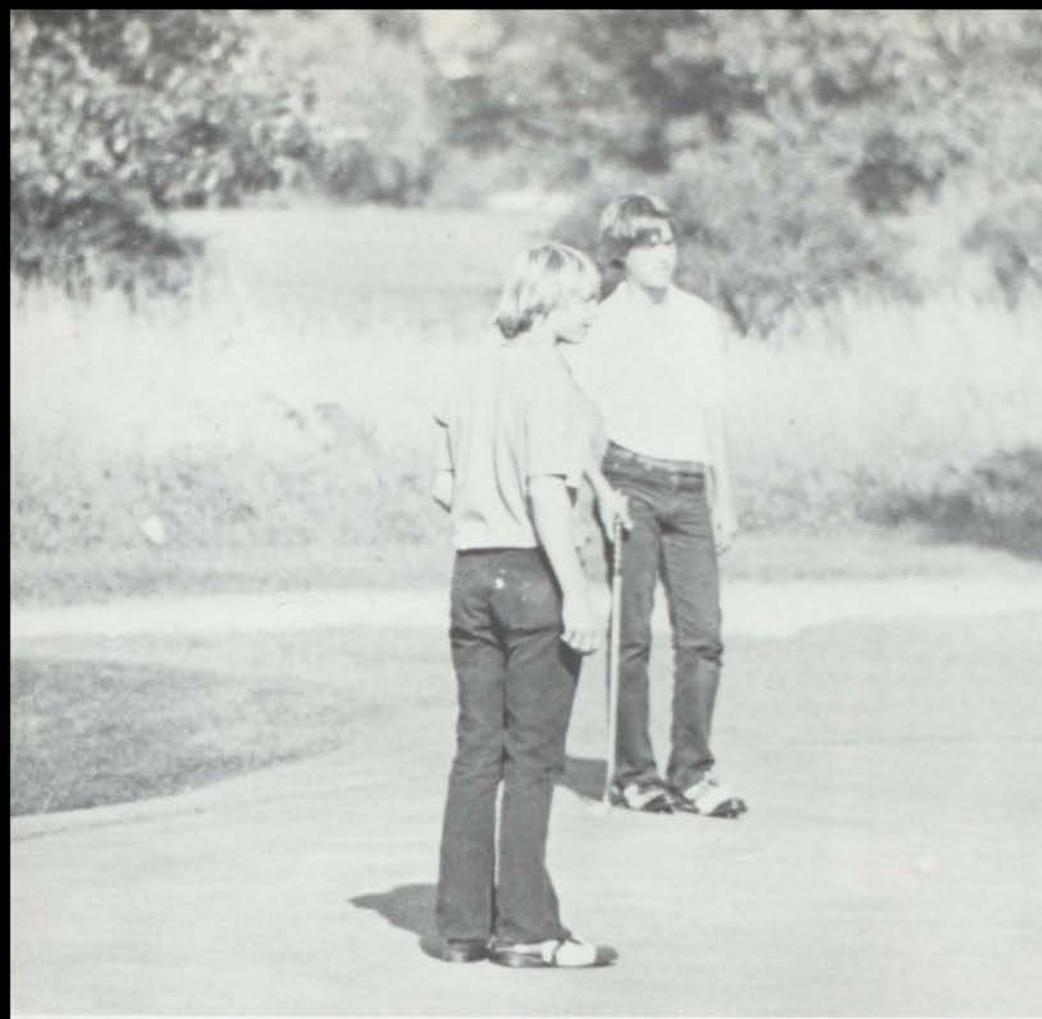

The goal for the 1979 girls golf team this year was to play up to each individual's ability. The team consisted of 2 seniors, 2 juniors, and 9 sophomores which make up quite a young team. Topping the Varsity ladder was Deb Smith. Next, came Terri Barnes at number 2 and Tina Silvers at number 3. Throughout the season Deb Smith, Tina Silvers and Terri Barnes medaled for getting the best score out of all the teams playing.

Coached by Linda Smith, the most valuable player was Deb Smith and most improved was Jolene Allen. Individually, the team did well, but on the whole should have done better compared to last year's second in regionals and this year's seventh.

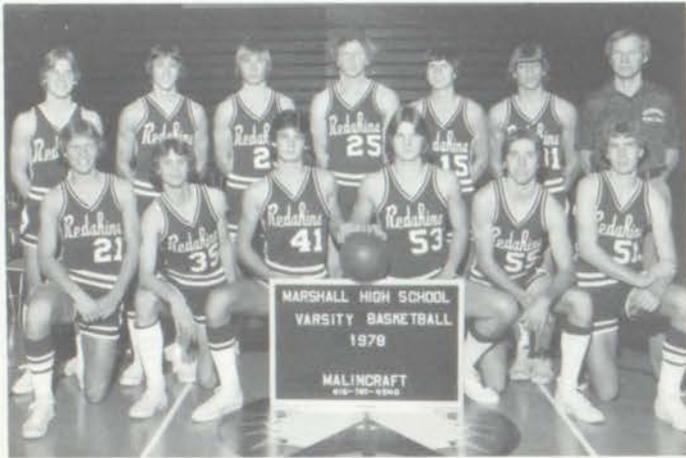

The team should do well in the coming years because of the young team. So, keep your eye on the female Redskin golfers!

Turning the Table

The 1978-79 varsity basketball team got off to a slow start by losing three close games to the top ranked teams in the Twin Valley Conference: Albion, Coldwater, and Sturgis. But as the season progressed, the Redskins, great enthusiasm and strong desire to improve brought about a turn toward a better season, highlighted by such exciting games as an overtime victory over Hastings, the one-point defeat of Portage Northern at the buzzer, and the upset victory over Sturgis on Senior Night.

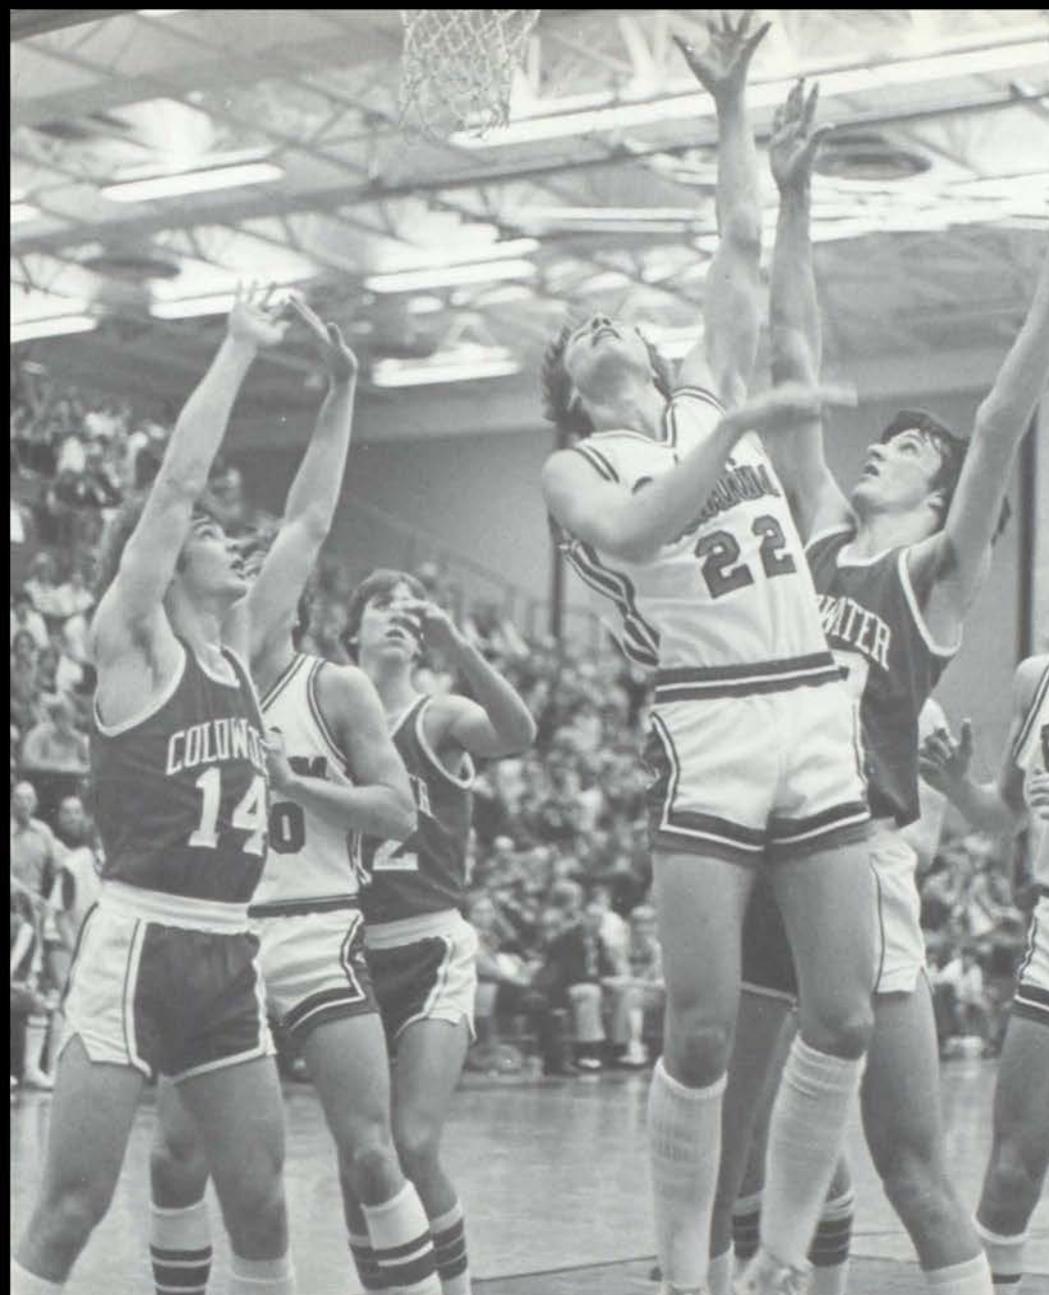

Brad Huffman led the Redskins with his point total of 372. He also held the highest free throw percentage of 71.9% and the highest field goal percentage of 49.8%. Other team leaders were Dave Meade with 45 great steals, Tom Wuori with 88 assists, and Dan Trubac who pulled down a total of 195 rebounds.

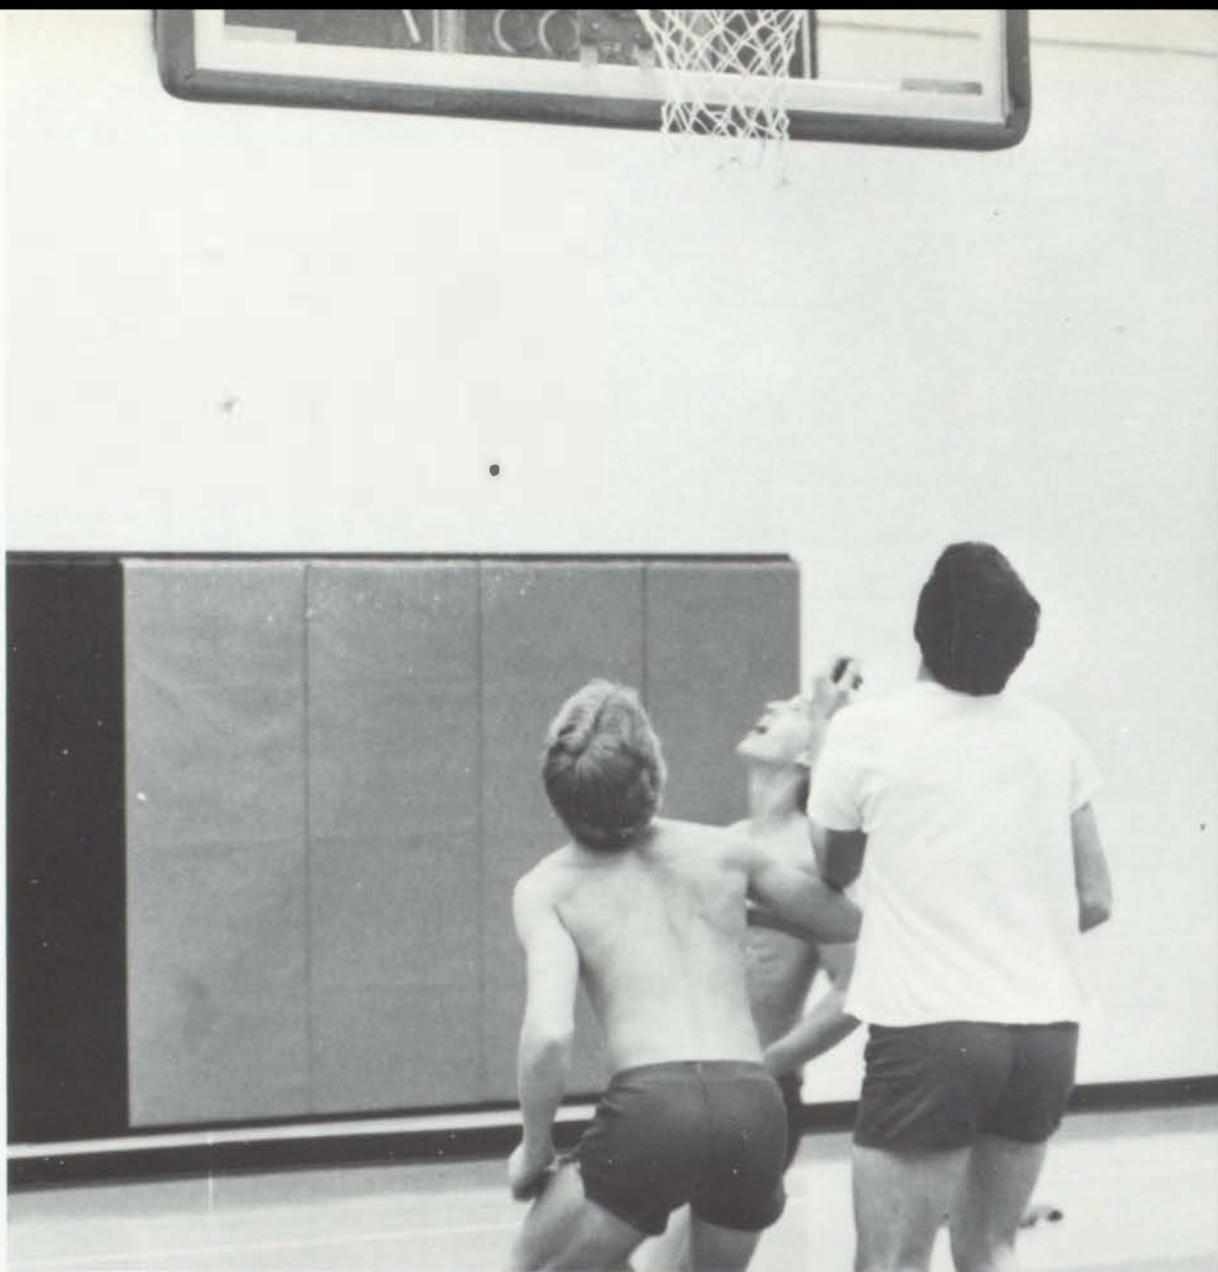

Some Redskins received individual honors as Dan Trubac was named Most Valuable Player and the top free throw shooter awards. Dan Trubac was named to the second All-Conference team, Tom Wuori received honorable mention, and Brad Huffman became the first junior in most recent years to be named to the first All-Conference team.

The 9-13 record that the basketball team accumulated is somewhat misleading on account of close game that might have reversed their record if circumstances had been different. The improvement of the team is better illustrated by their four point loss to Twin Valley and District Champion Albion in the semi-finals of Districts. In their final game, the Redskins had reached their pinnacle and proved that the season of 1978-79 was truly successful.

Surrounded by Cardinals, Tom Wuori successfully scores two for Marshall

Developing as a Team

Coach John Walton's freshmen positioned a 9-9 overall record for their 1979 season, but this did not show justice to how well the team played toward the end of the season.

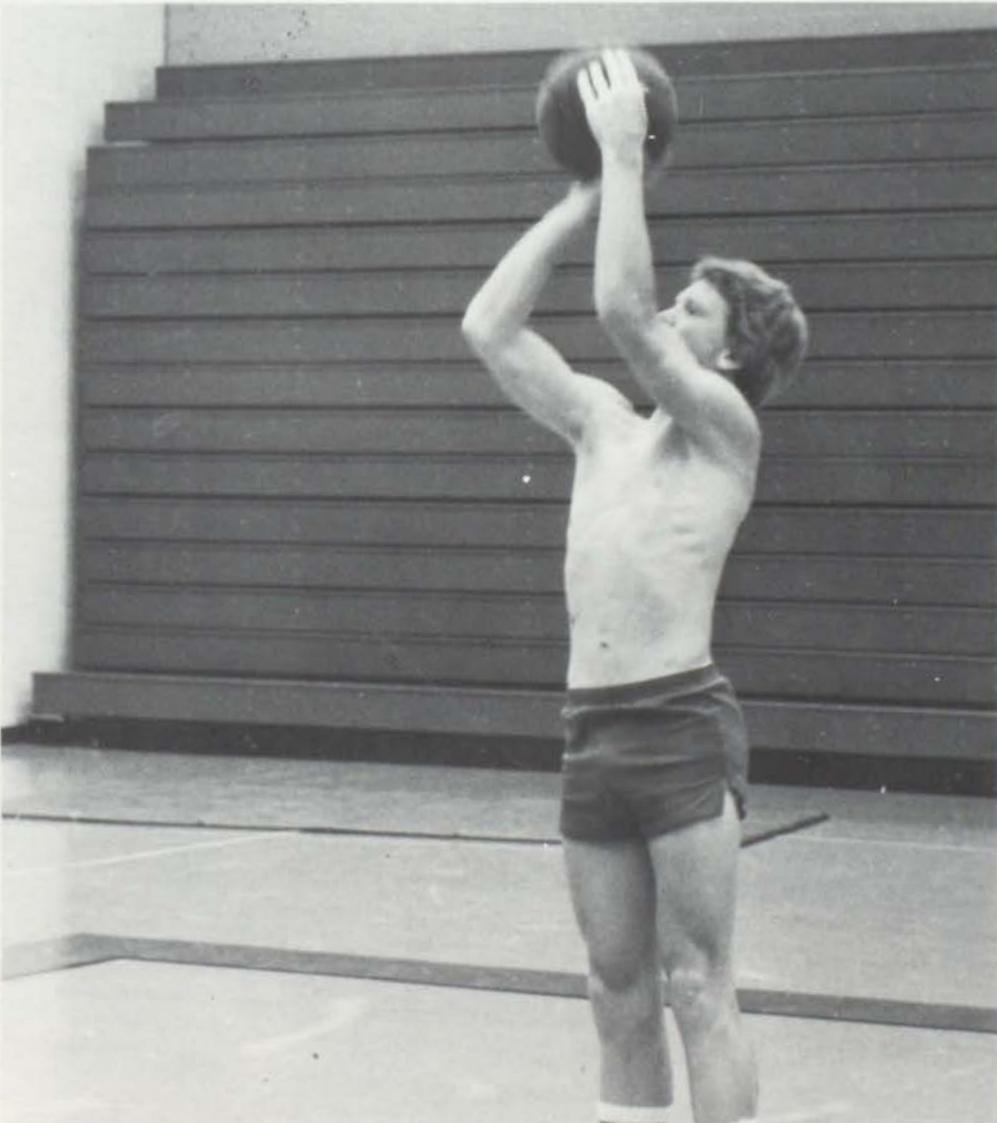

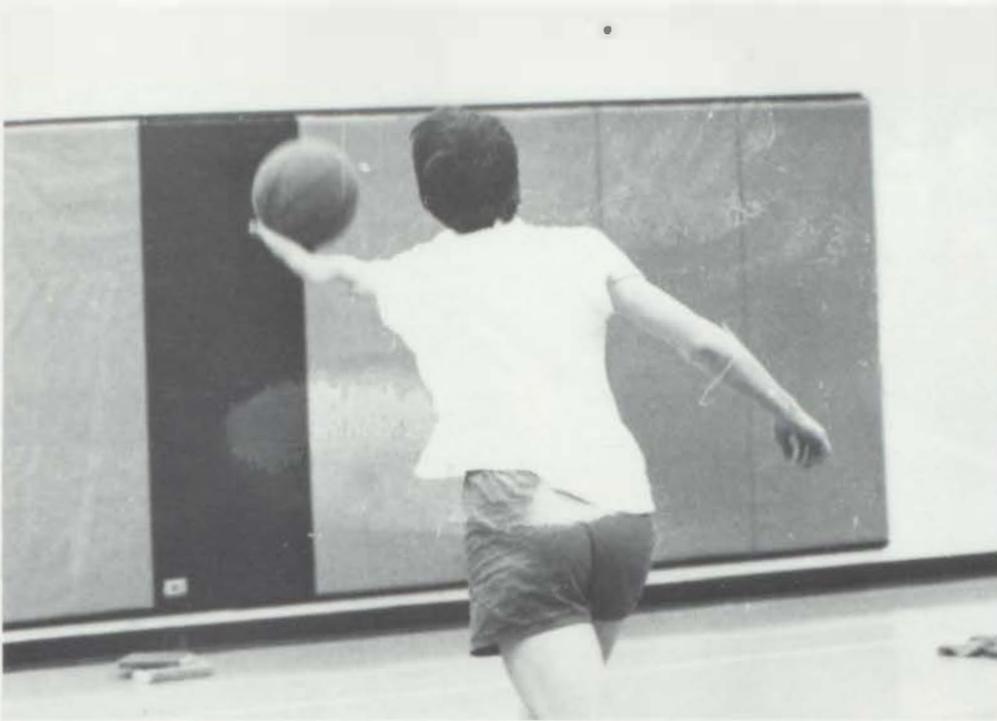

With the main objectives of the season to develop as many players as possible and to play each game as a team, the freshmen started out slowly at the beginning of the season, but gained their momentum with each game they played.

Coach Walton feels that there are many quality players of this young squad and will prove useful when they advance to J.V. and Varsity competition.

Coach Tom Sowles had good things also to say about the J.V. team. He looks forward to the team advancing to the Varsity team and says that with a little hard work and dedication, the outlook for next year's team is bright.

Grabbing to keep the ball in bounds is Dave O'Dell.

Carefully aiming, Bob Vonkers shoots the hoop.

Boasting A State Champion

Coach Ben Armstrong's wrestlers' goal this year was to obtain at least a record of .500 win, two trophies, and send three people to State Tournaments. Happily, they over-reached their goals by finishing with a 9-6 dual-meet record and won four trophies at two invitational tournaments. Although three people did not qualify for State, one thing was accomplished that had never happened before at Marshall High School: Terry Mahrle won the 126 lb. Class B State Championship.

Out of the many triumphs of the year, three highlights reigned. One being Terry's state championship. Another, was the well fought match against Sturgis. Although Sturgis won, Coach Armstrong commented that he has never seen a team so "keyed" for a match. The last was when Marshall placed 5 people in the finals of the Twin Valley meet. This was the largest number of Marshall wrestlers ever to make it to the finals.

Mr. Armstrong was very much encouraged by the fact that this year's turnout for the wrestling team was 43, the largest ever. And by the fact that there was such a large group of freshmen, a freshman match was scheduled with Coldwater.

"High Expectations" is the outlook for Marshall's grapplers. With only losing five out of 43 wrestlers with graduation, Coach Armstrong feels there will be much experience in the lower weights next year, with a state champ returning, you can bet Mr. Armstrong and next year's wrestlers will "Go For IT!!"

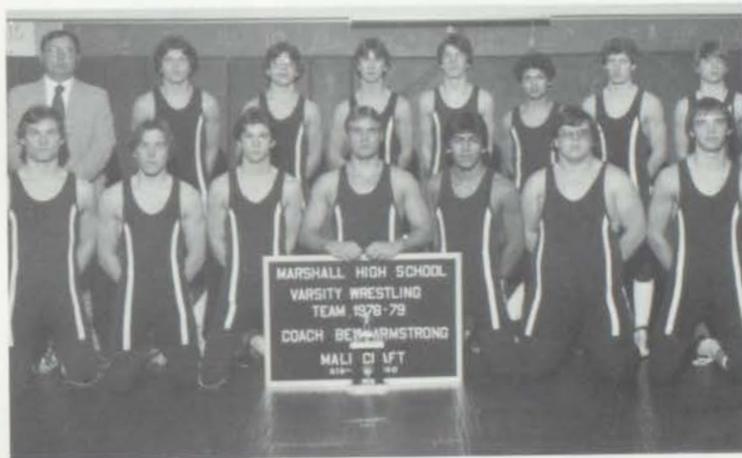

Practicing good sportsmanship, before his match is Ron Falk.

Season of Hard Work & Dedication

The 1978-79 volleyball season was one of hard work and dedication. The team was competitive through the whole season. Although, the win — loss record was not very promising the girls maintained their competitiveness through the whole year. Each game loss, was only by a few points, and the Redskin spikers put up a fight everytime they stepped on the court. Coach Stelma commented that the girls were all hard workers and this year was one of the building. The outlook for next year is one to look forward to. With only a few seniors leaving, the returning lettermen will be experienced and numerous. The team was led by Brenda Redfeil who was voted most-valuable player and Sue Hayes who was voted most improved.

Junior varsity spikers had a very good season. They worked well together as a team and compiled a very impressive record of 14-4. The Junior spikers also won the Union City tournament. This was the second year as the former junior varsity squad also took this honor last year.

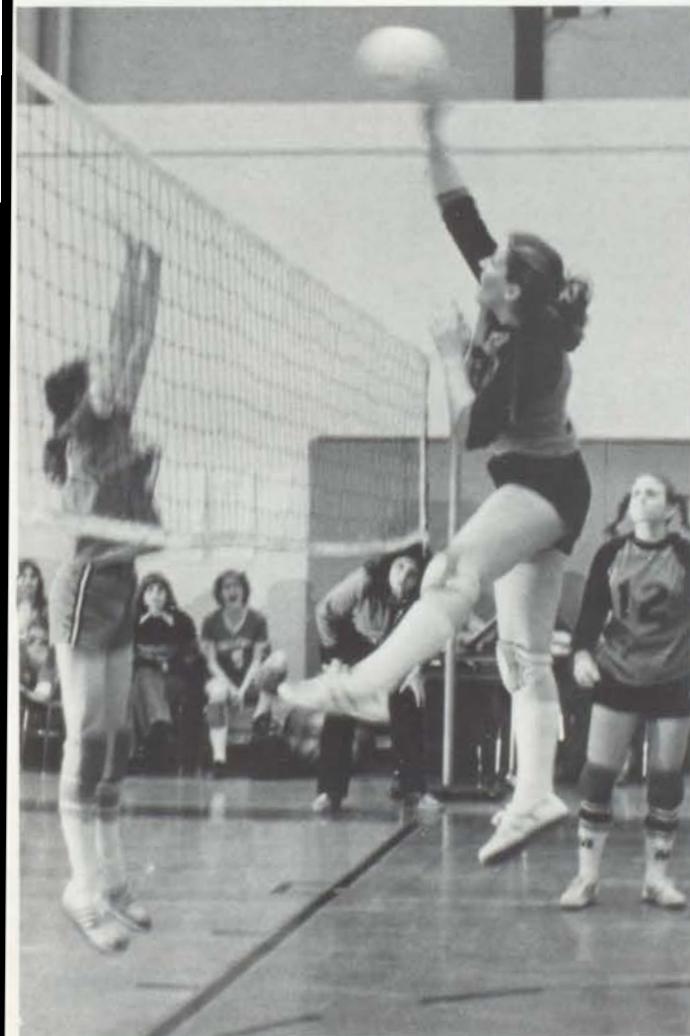

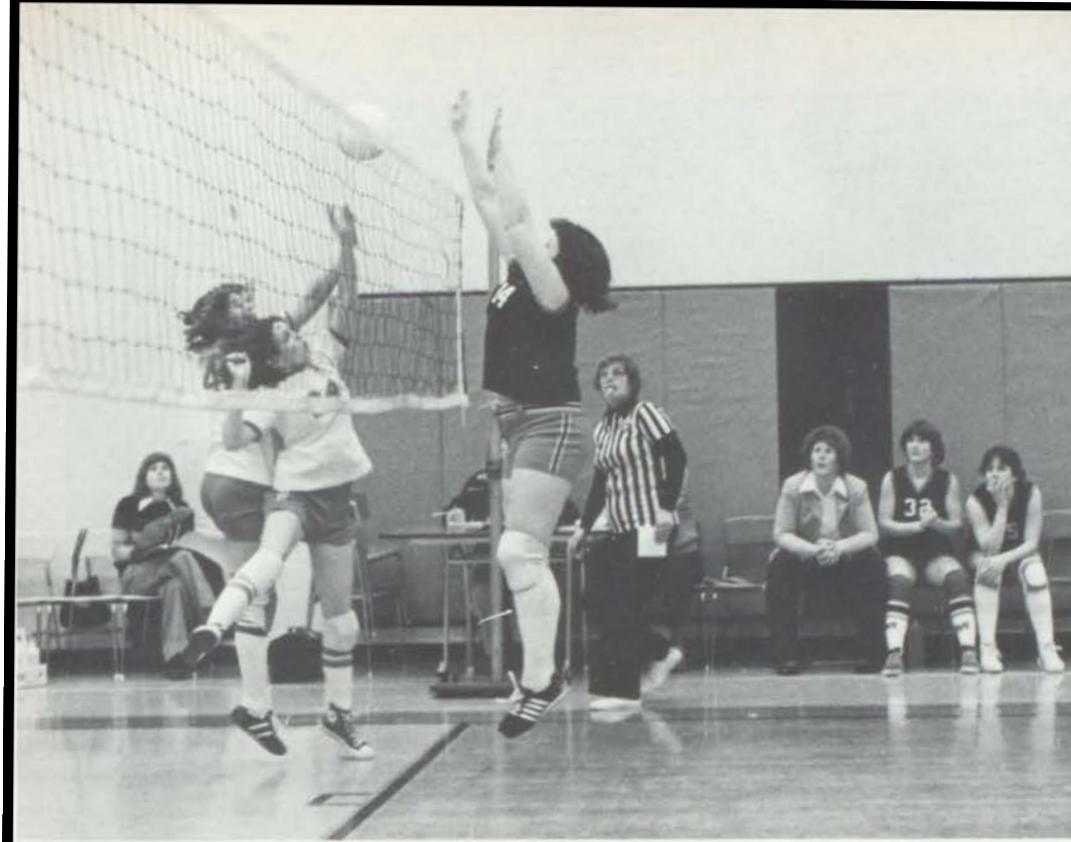

Spiking the ball to her opponents is Brenda Redfeil.

Blocking the ball defensively is Lori Burns.

A Year to Look Forward to

The boys swimming team has a long list of accomplishments to show. First, was a 9-2 dual record, which is the best ever in Marshall swimming history. Second, they took home firsts in the Albion Relays and the Marshall Invitational. Last, they finished sixth in the state of Michigan.

Every team goal set by the swim team was met this year.

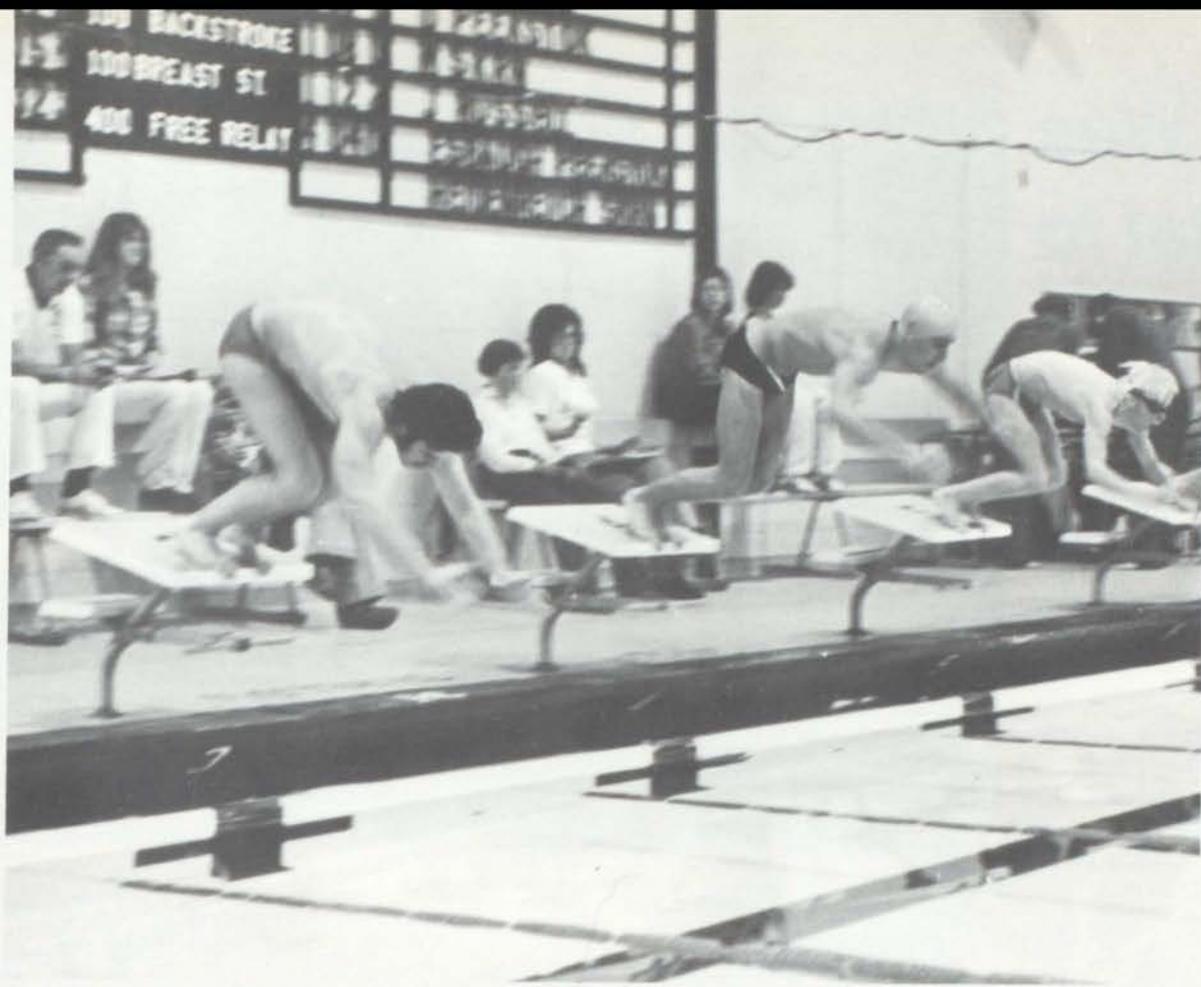

Taking home the M.V.S. award was sophomore, Ben Harrington. Most improved swimmers were Ray Davis and Keith Kenyon. Most valuable diver honors went to Kevin Estill.

Coach Les McCormick stated that this year was the first time the tankers have beaten Class A Battle Creek Central. He also feels that the outlook for next year is very favorable since all but four lettermen will be returning for next year. And, all the state swimmers but four will also be returning to make it a year to look forward to.

Unity Was Vital to Success

The team goals at the 1979 girls track team was to be in the top 3, in Twin Valley, to have a .500 or better season, and to be in the top 5 at regionals. The girls did very well with these goals as they were second in Twin Valley and turned out a record of 9-4 and were only 3 close points from 5th at regionals. Besides these outstanding accomplishments, there were 6 records broken, five of which were school records, Laura Charameda in the mile, Jill Craig in the discus, the 880 relay team and mile teams and a team with a record of 9 wins in one season. Chris Reed set a conference record in the High Jump. Coach Morris said "On a Team like ours, it is hard to pick one outstanding player because everyone was so vital to the teams success. I would say the whole team is M.V.P."

"Personally, I think the girls had a very good season. There were many surprises and the team improved considerably throughout the year. I hope it was a fun season for the girls because it was exciting and fun to be their coach for this year.

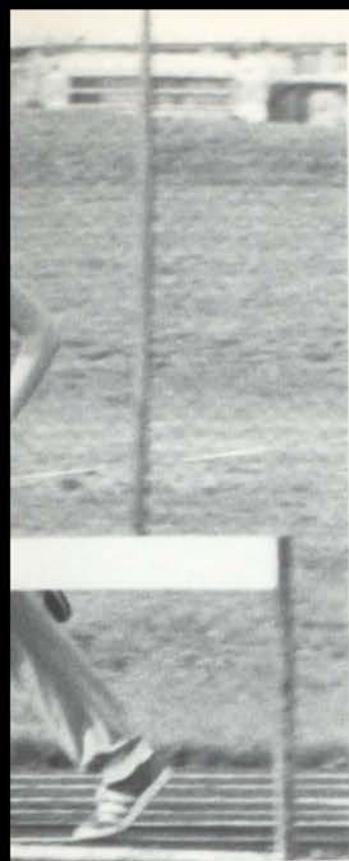

When asked about the outlook for next year he said "We only lost 4 senior letterwinners from this years team. Even though they will be hard to replace we should have the people to do it next year. There are 20 underclass letterwinners so the outlook for next season should be very good.

A lot of credit goes to Coach Morris for turning out such an outstanding team.

Wow! What a Season

Winning the Twin Valley was the main goal of the Redskins runners this season. Although this goal was accomplished, so were many other things that proved to make their season outstanding. For instance, an 11-1 duel meet record was achieved. This is quite a record to boast about. They defeated all Twin Valley teams plus teams who weren't in the conference. They competed in various relays throughout the season and did very well. In the early season, the team went to Western Michigan University and took a second place home. Sturgis Relays brought another second in to the Redskins hands. At the Sports Festival, still another second place was earned. It seemed these second places didn't satisfy the runners, for later in their season they took two first place in the Northwest Invitational and Twin Valley. They were also the Jackson Northwest Metric Relay Champions.

Coach Roy commended Fred Bisel, Dave Flint, Ed Wilbur and Gary Ferguson for their outstanding performances throughout the season. Coach Roy had a lot of good feelings about the season and said, "We had a great Twin Valley season. We tailed off at the state meet but in general it was an excellent season and one to be proud of. We won six hard earned trophies."

He says that the outlook for next year is very good because they have a very strong returning nucleus. He says the field events should be very strong particularly the sprints and hurdles will be strong.

Successfully jumping over the high bar is Brad Huffman.

We're Looking Ahead

The boys tennis team compiled a record of 5-8 in their season. Although the record doesn't speak of an overwhelming season, there were certain things accomplished that the record doesn't show. The team improved and matured throughout the year. There was a new first singles player and a new second singles after the loss of the two people who played these positions. Mike VandenHeede took over as first singles and Mike Petroff took over as second singles and did very well.

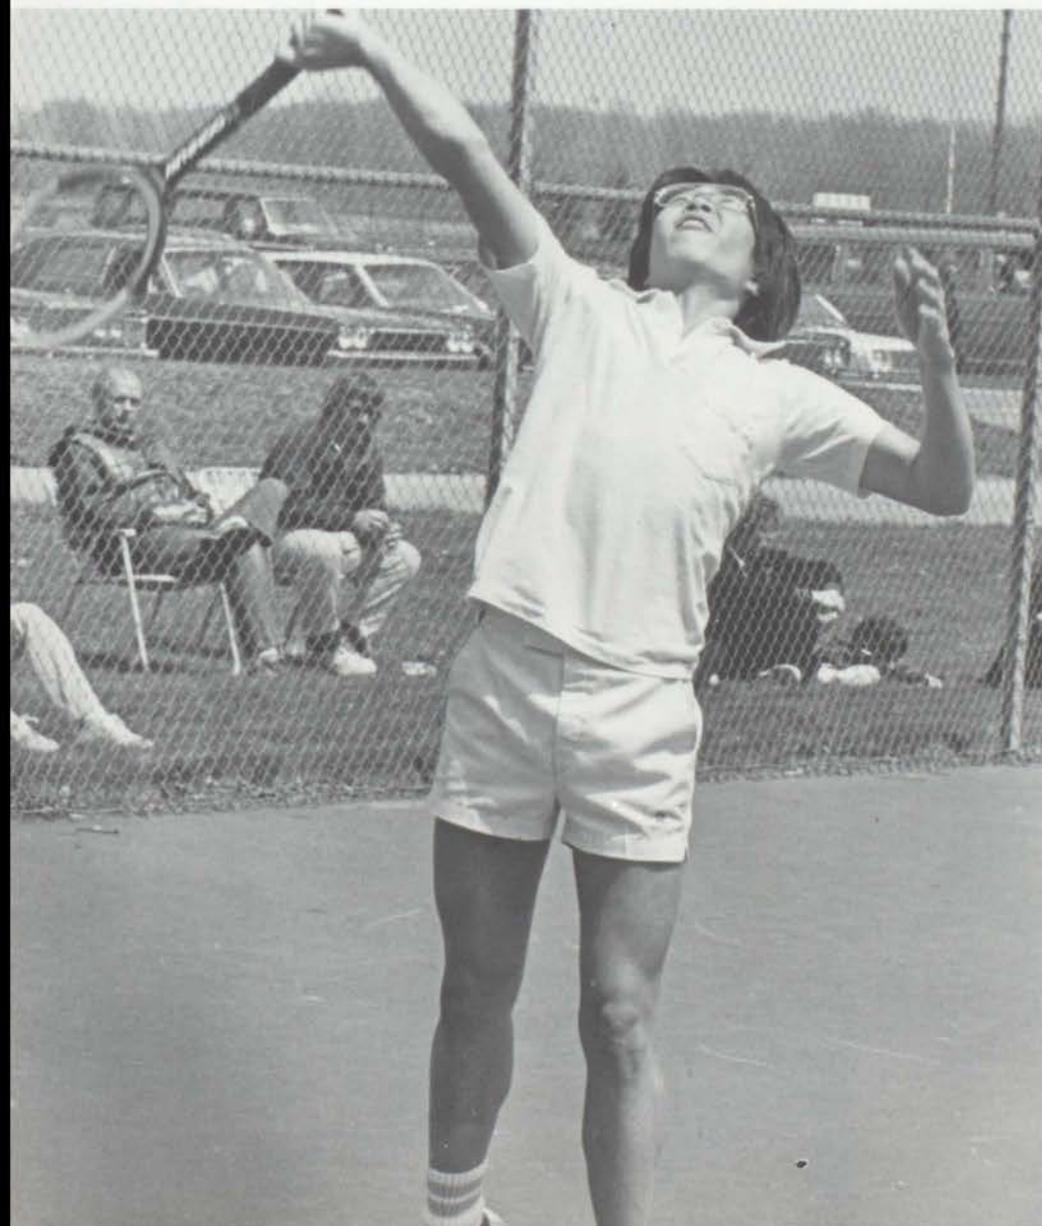

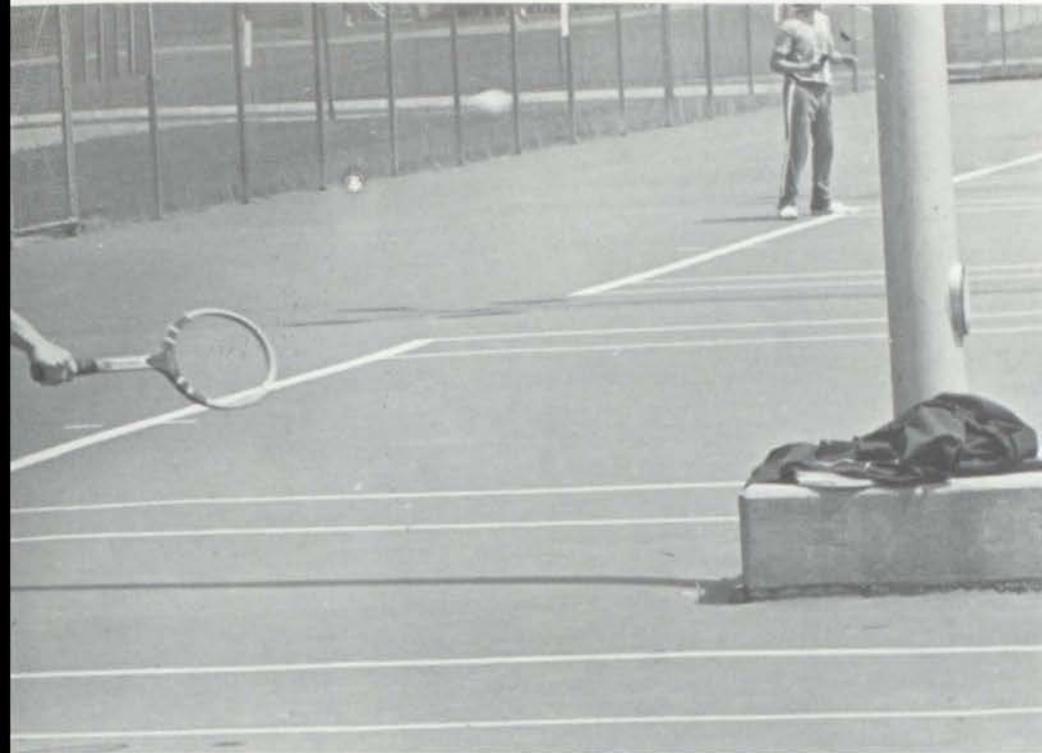

One goal was to be first in Twin Valley. They knew Sturgis was going to be tough but set their goals to beat them. Some of the players said the team may have been over confident and lost some matches which really should have been won.

There is a bright outlook for next year as the netters are losing only two seniors. Many members are looking forward to next season and will be playing in tournaments throughout the summer.

The team voted the second doubles team of Jeff Filabrandt and Bob Vincent Most Valuable Players and Mike VandenHeede received the Most Improved Award.

Girls Generate Spirit

Pep assemblies, wall signs, and overall school spirit are just a few qualifications of a MHS cheerleader. The girls this year generated spirit through the school during the chilly Friday night football games and the exciting basketball games. The cheerleaders sponsored their annual Homecoming Dance which was a big success because of the Redskins' victorious win over the Hastings Saxons. The girls even attended a summer camp to learn a variety of cheers and chants, which helped boost overall student spirit. Many of the cheerleaders, jobs are done behind the scenes, but we must agree they do a good job. For sure, the football and basketball games would be far from exciting without the MHS cheerleaders.

Giving it all she's got is Lora Jason.

The cheerleaders lead the cheers at the sidelines.

A Feeling of Together- ness

The varsity baseball team had a depressing season this year. The squad was full of talent but too many errors and a weakness in pitching crippled the boys from having a successful season.

Tony Dunham was named the Most Valuable Player at the annual spring sports banquet.

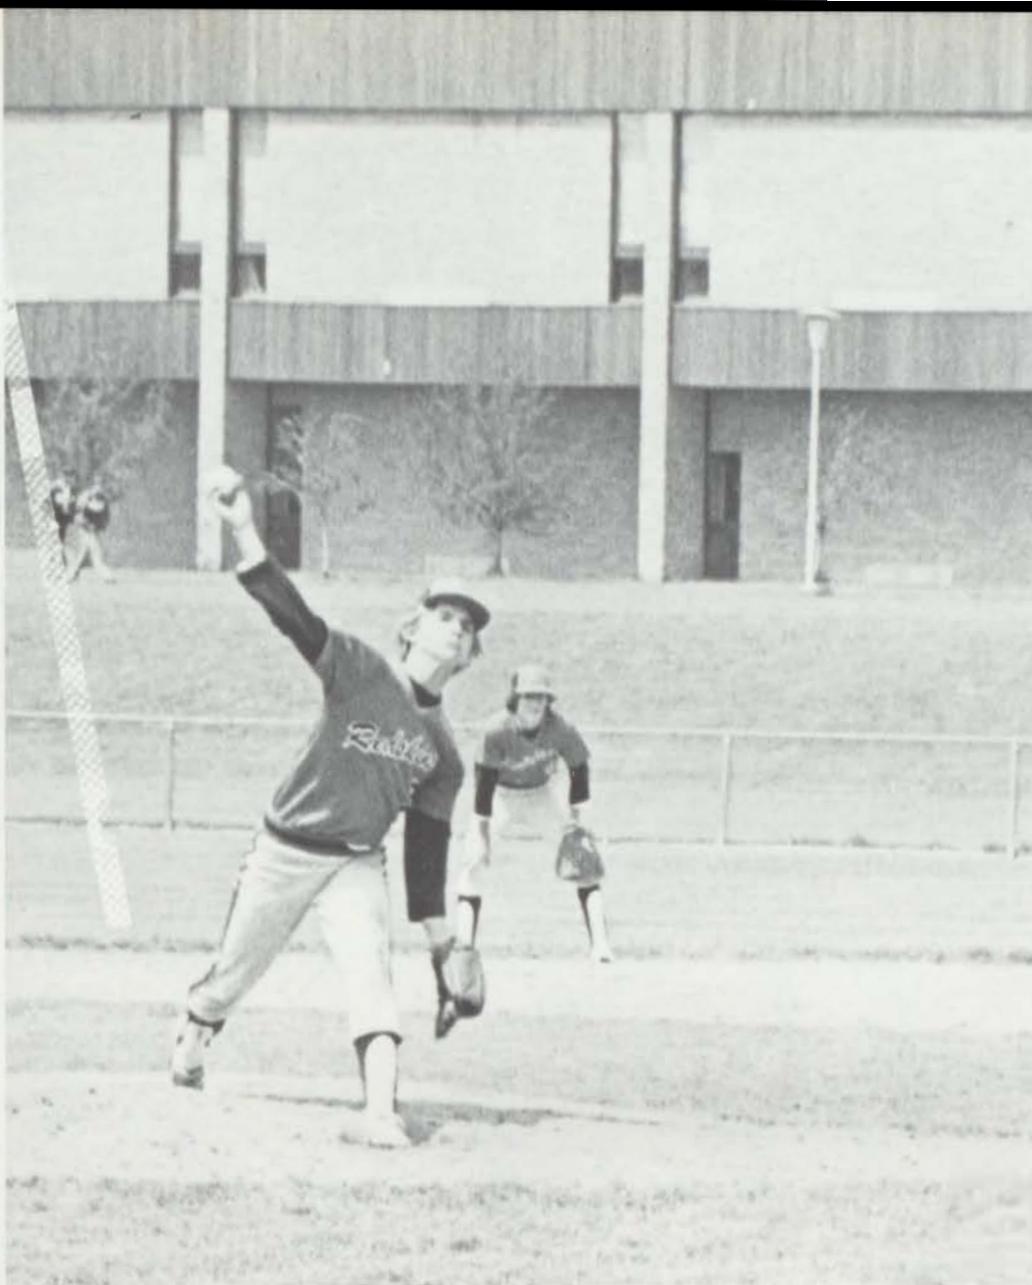

Even though this year was not the greatest for the skins next year looks promising. Only a handful of seniors will not be back and the juniors will all have a year of experience behind them. Also, there are many good J.V. players who will move up to varsity next year.

The record may not show a season of outstanding accomplishment, but it brought experience and knowledge which will prove very useful and valuable in the seasons to come. All members of the team had a feeling of togetherness and it made a year for them that will stay in their memories.

A typical scene from the action packed field on a sunny afternoon.

Putting his weight into it, this player drives the ball to first base.

They Keep Us Happy

Do you have a legitimate gripe? If so, take it to the Building Council. Chances are you'll get it taken care of, because the Building Council's main objective is to keep both the students and teachers of Marshall High School happy.

The looks of the outside of the school is a problem this committee is frequently working on. They feel that the problem is not, in most cases, caused by members of the student body.

The Building Council, headed by Mr. Burns also has Cindy Johnston as senior chairperson, Eric Earl as junior chairperson, and Pam Searle as secretary.

The Council also does a great job in organizing Homecoming and Spirit Festival as well as the awards assembly each spring.

Using his hands to express himself, is the advisor Brian Burns.

Expressing his opinions is Ben Armstrong with Barney Roy looking on

Pep Club Cheers on MHS Teams

There is one club at Marshall High School that continues to keep our spirits up and our enthusiasm running high.

The Pep Club, under the direction of Ms. Harting, has the responsibility of making encouraging signs for our sports teams, performing skits at assemblies, and selling programs at various sporting events.

These dedicated students are at the forefront of encouraging us all to become more "with-it" in terms of rallying around our various teams.

Each week during athletic seasons they assemble in Ms. Harting's room and map their strategy for yet another game.

Ms. Harting gives a watchful eye as some of her Pep Club charges finish another project.

Donna Davaro, Karen Kiesler, Denise Rocco, Cindy Goodman, and Angie Earl complete a batch of locker signs.

Becky Adamczak awaits inspiration for her next peppy sign.

Painting signs is one of the responsibilities of these pep club members.

Donna Savard and Denise Rocco concentrate on their next creation.

Two Areas Keep Us Brainy

You may be wondering why two seemingly unrelated areas such as National Honor Society and the Library are located on the same pages of the yearbook. No, the yearbook staff is not "freaking-out", it's just that these two areas of our school foster academic growth.

The National Honor Society inducted several Marshall High School students into their ranks this year. To be considered for membership a student must be either a junior or senior, must have at least a 3.5 grade point average, and must be evaluated by the faculty for qualities of leadership and service.

Marshall librarian, Eleanor Houseman and her crew of assistants keep the library running smoothly. Her staff keeps their fingertips at all times at sources of information that we, as users of the library, would ignore. Whether it's a research paper or if you're just looking for a book for leisure reading you'll find it at the library.

One of many Marshall High School students who find the library useful is pictured at right.

Valerie Mercer assists John Trotter in locating information stored in the library.

106 Members Demon- strate Abilities

The Future Farmers of America headed by Mr. Floyd Beneker is an organization that promotes leadership and skill development among its members. This is accomplished by all 106 members being encouraged to enter fair exhibits, show their skills at judging contests at Michigan State University, and participating in Leadership contests at the District, Regional and State levels.

As a method of fund-raising, the Future Farmers sell citrus fruits and pecans.

This group operates 42 acres of land which is now used as laboratory experience. In addition, the FFA is involved with community service such as conducting safety programs.

Some members of the FFA are rewarded for their hard work by receiving degrees and awards at the local, state, and national level.

Cindy Irish receives the Dekelb Award as outstanding F.F.A. Senior from Kent Esbaugh, High School principal, at the 26th annual Spring Banquet.

1979's star farmer was Jeff Parker, star Agri-Businessman, and Randy Combs star Green-hand.

Bill Walters, Myron Vandenburg, John Hupenbecker, and Greg Eaton work to beautify Marshall.

Consulting on a project with fellow FFA students is Jeff Noble.

Language Clubs, GOALS Offer Insights

The French Club, the Latin Club, and the GOALS Resource Center all provided Marshall High School students with an outlook that is a little bit different from what we see in normal everyday life.

The Latin Club under the direction of Ms. Kendra Magnus held their annual slave day auction and promoted projects related to the ancient language.

Ms. Harting and her French Club members traveled to the Detroit Institute of Arts and offered students an insight into the romantic language.

The GOALS program, now in a second year of operation coordinated our curriculum and gave students a chance to explore various career possibilities.

Under the direction of Ms. Karen Visser and Mr. Tony DeRose, the center offered students a chance to get to know themselves and literally set goals for themselves.

In addition several guest speakers were invited into the building to speak on various career areas.

Leigh Lobe concentrates on a project in the GOALS resource Center.

Janice Fishhaber uses the GOALS computer to find data related to her career choice.

“What a Mess”

When a stranger enters the Journalism room, his first reaction may be . . . “What a mess!!” although the record player beats out R.E.O. Speed wagon from the darkroom, the minds of all the inhabitants all pound with the thought of the next deadline, which is usually all too soon. Under the guidance of their spirited Advisor Chet “don't fret” duce a terrific yearbook. The journalism class also does quite a bit of traveling. Recently, they all went to Central Michigan University for the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association Convention, and also had a fun Christmas party, which took off some of the tension that is sometimes evident in this room. So remember, as you read this story, someone went half crazy writing it.

Working on her junior deadline is Jolene Flynn.

Working hard on the yearbook, is Sandra Wilkerson and Lisa Langridge.

Apparently disgusted by what she is seeing, Mary Samson frowns at her pictures.

Students Are Well Informed

One Friday each month, students gather around the Bookstore during their lunch hours to grab a free addition of our school newspaper, The INTERCHANGE.

This newspaper tells of school events that were, are, and will be happening. Reporters of this publication interview new teachers, write their own opinions and fact columns, and like all good newspapers, there is even a spot for letters to the editor, Jeanene Heidenreich. Helping Jeanene this year is Assistant Editor, Julie VandyBogurt. The photographers are Ralph Bess and Paul Flesner.

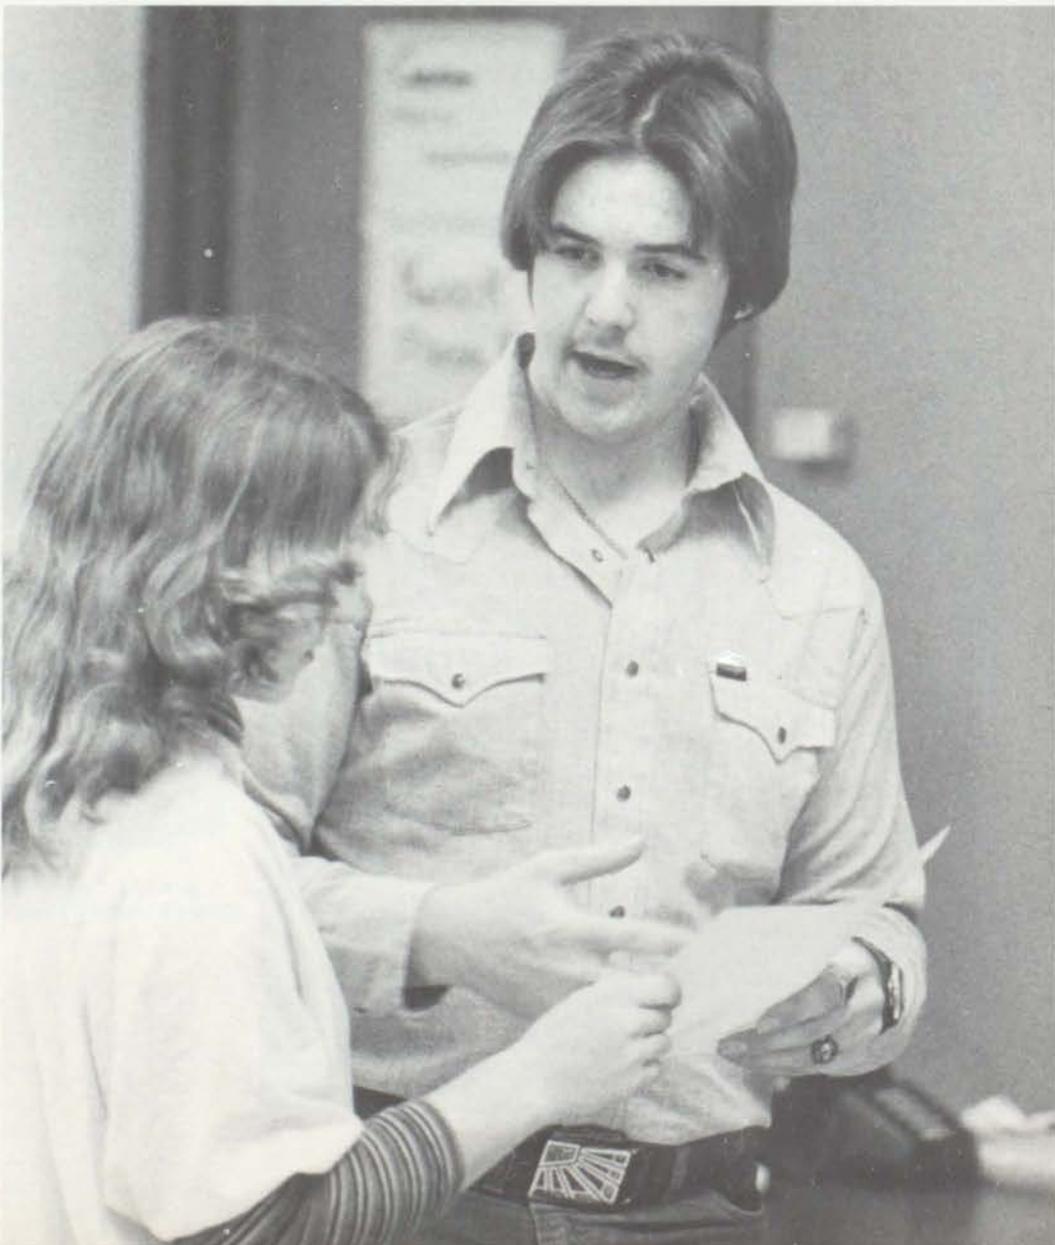

Members of the INTERCHANGE are again planning a field trip to C.M.U. for the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association Convention where they will attend seminars ranging from layouts to editing.

The staff is planning to expand their operations this year by having a bigger staff, producing a literary magazine, continuing publication of the programs REDSKIN REPORT.

Many dances and the selling of Bumper stickers highlighted the INTERCHANGE staff's money raising projects.

Smiling pretty for the photographer, is Mario Ramon.

Discussing important newspaper business are Beth Harwood and Brian Burma.

Posing with a jersey from her favorite team, is Jeanene Heidenreich.

Looking up from her work on the INTER-CHANGE, is Sue Walters.

Enjoying herself in Journalism is the assistant editor, Julie Vandy Bogurt.

ACADEMICS

Holding Up a Tradition

The M.H.S. band and orchestra held up the tradition of all former Redskin bands and orchestras by carrying home Division I ratings every time they went to competition.

Both the orchestra and band members sacrificed much of their spare time as well as class time preparing for their superior performances.

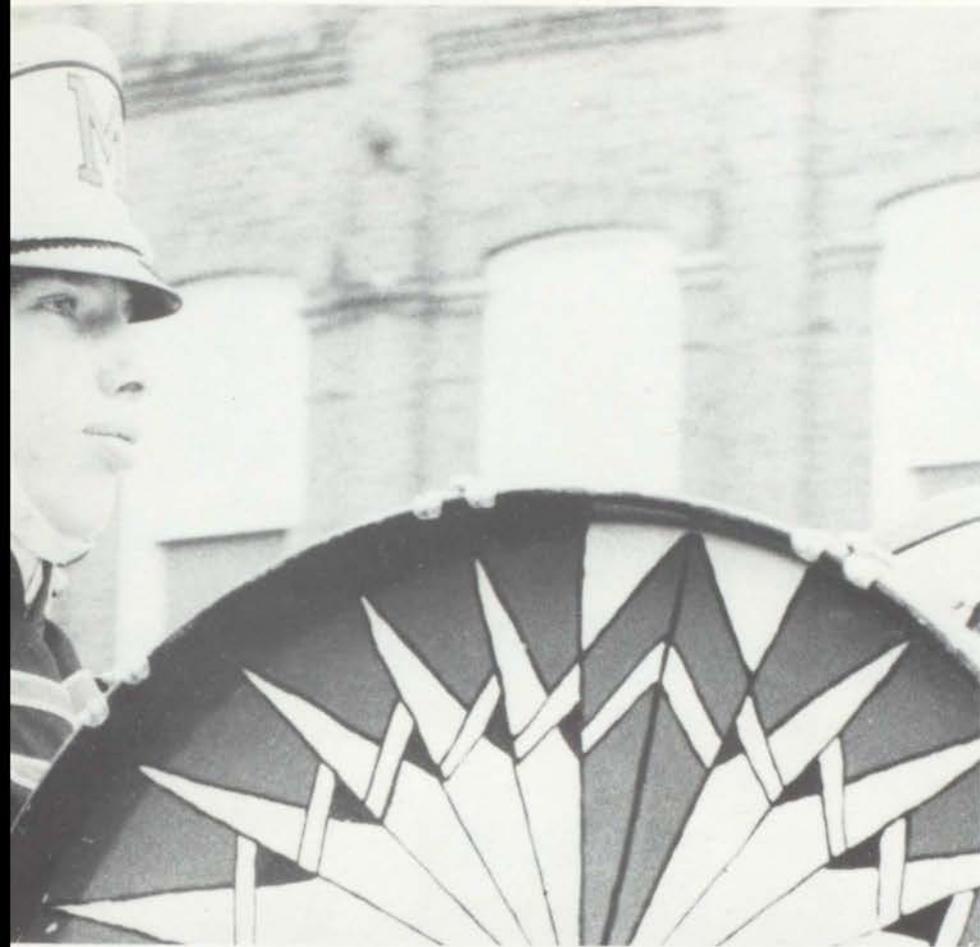

As usual, under director, Mr. Beery, the band performed pre-game, half-time, and post-game shows at football games, and sometimes provided a pep band to basketball games.

The Orchestra performed at formal school functions and gave up many Saturdays for festivals. The Orchestra is under the direction of Miss Hamm.

Miss Hamm concentrates as she instructs her orchestra members.

Band members listen attentively before practicing their music.

Fred Bisel concentrates on his playing, as he marches down Main Street for the Christmas parade.

The Ball State Band performs for M.H.S. during half time at the football game.

Singers Keep MHS Humming

When you walk down the hall first, second or third hours you might hear people harmonizing and singing together. These are the hours that Mr. Clissold, the choir director, works with his students. The choir is divided into three sections, womens ensemble, singers, and concert choir. They go different places and do different things, but they all work hard at their singing and performing.

The singers have done many things this year. They sang at Win Schulers, went to the state choir festival, districts, and regionals. Solo and ensemble, which is an overnight affair, are regular stops on the choirs schedule. The group had five main concerts this year.

Womens ensemble performed twenty times this year. They went to districts and state, and have gone to solo and ensemble. Also womens ensemble and singers combined forces to become womens choral. They played in four choir festivals in Kalamazoo.

Concert choir has participated in choir festivals for the second time in six years. They have for the first time ever, been divided into small ensembles and participated in district, solo and ensemble.

Fooling around before class starts are Tim Tew, Kathy Christner, Phil Lasky, Allen Tribby, and Dick Smith.

Members of the MHS choral group warm up before class.

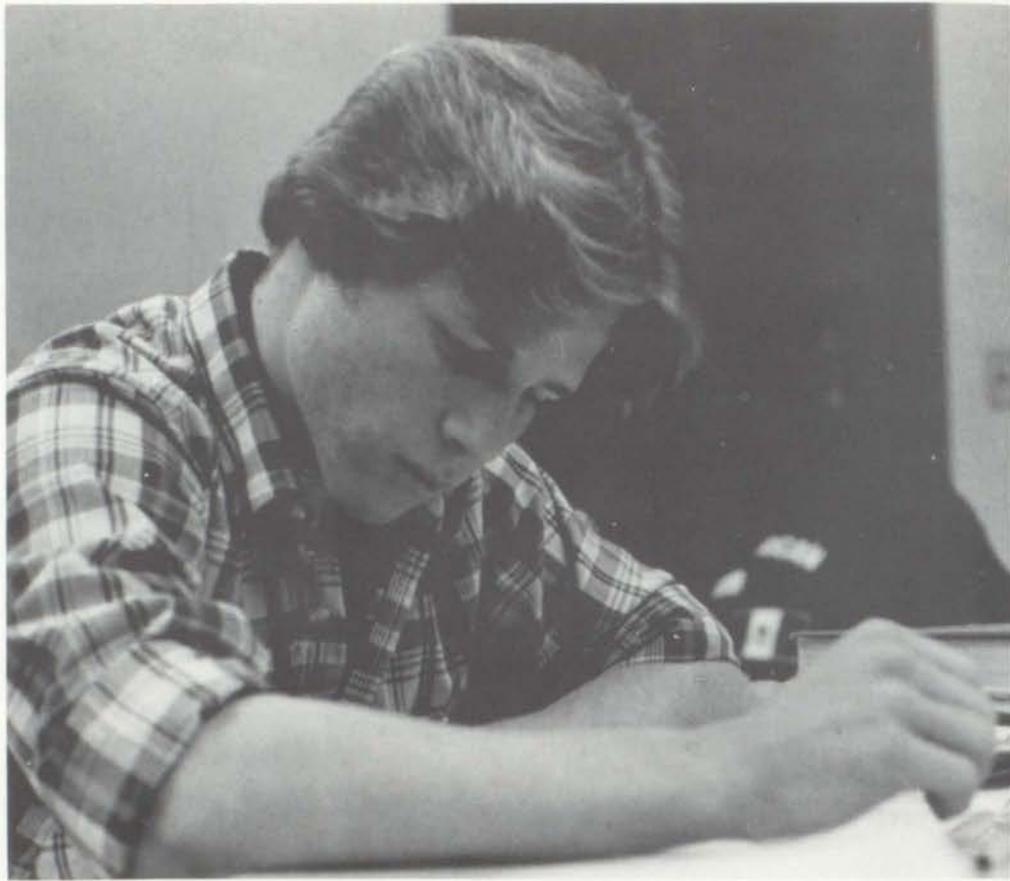

Members of the Ensemble warm-up during class.

Daryl Ball takes his turn at conducting the choir.

Practicing music for the ensemble are Tamara Smith, Brenda Wagenschutz, and Todd Cook.

In Accounting, Dave Wood concentrates on his paper.

Math Racks Minds

Theorems, calculus, negatives, positives, to the average student are an incomparable heartache. Mind racking as they may seem, Algebra, Geometry, and M.I.A. are a vital part of the curriculum here at M.H.S. With teachers such as Mr. Buck, Mr. Machata, Mr. Glynn, Mr. Elyea, and Mr. Triage, these classes also tend to be very stimulating and thought provoking. The average student here takes at least two years of some sort of class offered at the Math department.

The classes offered here are fit to the student's capabilities, ranging from General Math to Modern Introductory Analysis, and all equally challenging. So, if you have an extra hour next semester, why not try out the Math department, it's an experience you'll never forget.

Five teachers are employed here at M.H.S. to bring these subjects to you. These teachers are Mr. Cronk, Mr. Roy, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Smouse and Mr. Wuori. These classes include subjects from Michigan History to Government and 20th century world.

Debate/ Forensics Complete Best Season Ever

The MHS debate and forensics teams completed one of their best seasons ever. The '79 year brought MHS a state forensics champion, the first at Marshall High School. Senior, Randy Lake won the first place spot in serious reading competition. Sophomore, Mark Williams, competing with Lake, tied for thirteenth spot in extemporaneous reading.

The Novice debate team won a first place finish in the Expressway League and tied for eighth in state competition. This was the first year since 1973 that a novice team from Marshall competed in state tournaments.

The Varsity Debate team did nearly as well as their novice counterparts. The team finished fifth in state competition, losing a tough 2-1 decision in the quarter-finals to Grand Rapids Christian High School. On their way to the state meet they compiled a perfect 6-0 record in district competition.

Randy Lake, Mary Dennis, and Cindy Meyers rehearse a radio play for the forensics team.

Mary Dennis, Dave Chamberlain, and Chris Miller proudly display one of their many trophies won in various public speaking contests.

Tim Goheen practices his delivery while fellow students Mark Williams and Sherry Katz look on.

Practicing for their debate tournament are Mitch Crank, and Robin Gary.

Coach Jim Telfer looks on as one of his forensics classes prepares for another meet.

Variety of Electives

Want to learn how to cook?? How about learning to manage your marriage? At M.H.S. it's possible to be instructed in both of these, and at the same time learn how to draw in perspective.

The Home-Ec. and Art Departments offer a variety of elective classes. For example, Mrs. Poole teaches Drawing, Textiles, and Humanities 1 and 2, Mr. Walton teaches Studio 1 and 2, Drawing, Ceramics and Painting.

Teaching the Home-Ec classes of Society and Change, Design 1 and 2, Independent living, Constructive Decision Making, and Advanced Food and Clothing, is Ms. Fraser. Mrs. Knaack teaches Design 1 and 2, Child Psychology, Home Decorating, Sewing Knits, and Advanced Foods.

Working together to create a culinary masterpiece are, John Almaraz, and Cary Llewellyn.

It takes a team to turn out good food. The people on this team are John Almaraz, Dave Clements and Elena Hargus.

Take It, or Else

In case anyone was wondering, education IS the major reason for going to high school. And two of the many forms of this education come in Physical and Drivers Ed. In other words, Driver's Ed. and Physical Ed. are essential in high school.

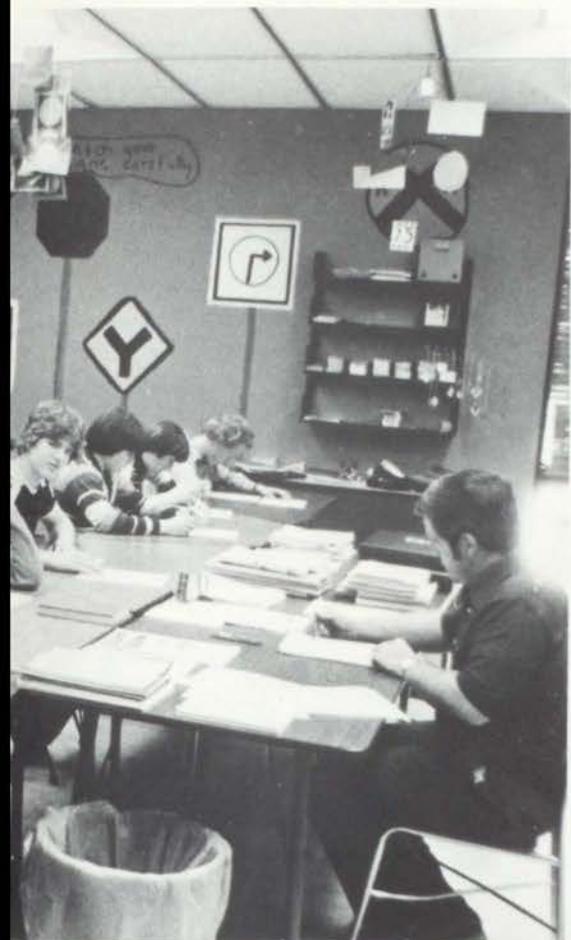

First, and foremost in the minds of fifteen year olds, is Mr. Cline's class of Driver's Ed. For a semester, students complete a balance of Range practice, and "on the road" practice and knowledge of driving rules and regulations. Students are required to have at least three hours of "on the road" practice as well as maintain at least a C-average in the classroom (and give his driving instructor as few gray hairs and white knuckles as possible).

Secondly, and the most depressing for students, is Phys. Ed. Mr. Labadie, Mr. McCormick, Mrs. Hopkins, and Mr. Reynolds teach classes that include: Badminton, volleyball, tennis and bowling, softball, track and field, Redskin Fitness along with the mandatory first-year phys. ed. and Health classes. In order for seniors to graduate, they must have taken at least two years of phys. ed. So how can we complain with the variety of interesting classes offered to us.

Working hard on their tests, is Mr. Cline's Drivers Ed. class.

Throwing up the ball is Ms. Hopkins, while Scott Quick and Jack Kipp try to tip the ball to their side.

Facing off are Darcy Dukes and Veronica Kalizs, with the referee Todd Maisner.

Arts Industrial Offer More Than Woodshop

If you happen to journey past the intersection, past the cafeteria, and even past the deep dark recesses of the band and orchestra rooms, a new world unfolds to reveal — yes, you're right — the humming and buzzing of busy machines are cast apart from the rest of the school, but very much real in its own importance. In this wing, four separate facets may be studied: Woods, concerning carpentry skills; Welding teaches the fusing of metal projects; the concepts and working orders of electrical systems is the main function of Electricity; Drafting teaches the rudimentaries of architecture, such as lay-outs, etc.

Participants in the F.F.A. study our world and its environment. This area branches down into many specialized areas to be studied: livestock science, landscaping, plant and soil science, and floriculture and gardening.

With the experienced help of Mr. Murphy, Mr. Strough, and Mr. Beneker, students benefit greatly and often times end up in a career related to one of these fields.

While Mr. Murphy works on his own project, students help each other on their own.

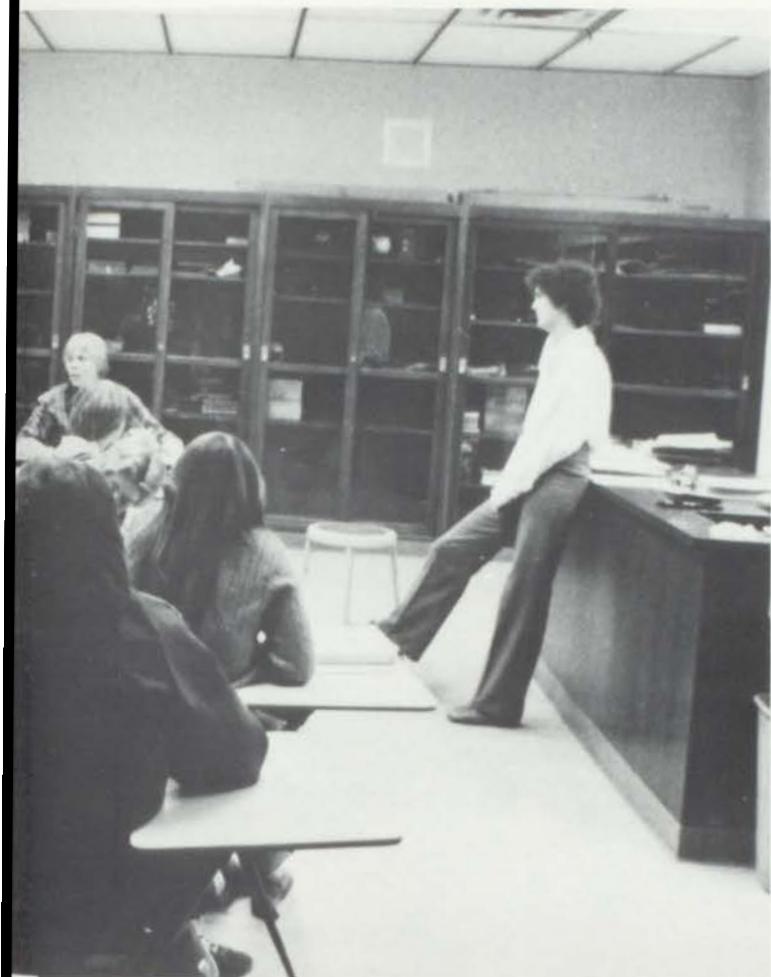

Talking things over with her science class, is Mrs. Edwards.

Demonstrating how to use the microscope to his class, is Mr. Kelley.

Learning Chemical Equations

$H_2O$ ,  $SO_4$ ,  $O_2$ , and  $HCl$ , these are a few of the many chemical equations you might hear as you pass the chemistry room. However, chemistry is not the only science course offered at M.H.S. Some of the others are, physics, biology, life science, and earth science.

The teachers who teach the science subjects are Mr. Cairns, Mr. Davis, Ms. Edwards, Mr. Kelley, and Mr. Malinowski.

So, if you're a person who just loves doing experiments, reports, and taking those exciting notes in class, then one of these supersonic science courses is for you.

Teaching his physics class is Mr. Cairns.

Two Programs Offer Job Training

Need a job? Talk to Mr. Josephson, the Placement Director at MHS, utilizing the Co-Op Program a student may obtain credit for working part of the school day. The requirements are that the student be at least a junior and have a minimum of ten credits previously passed. With these requirements a student may participate in co-op and receive one-half credit each semester. Someone working on co-op may have up to two hours working time.

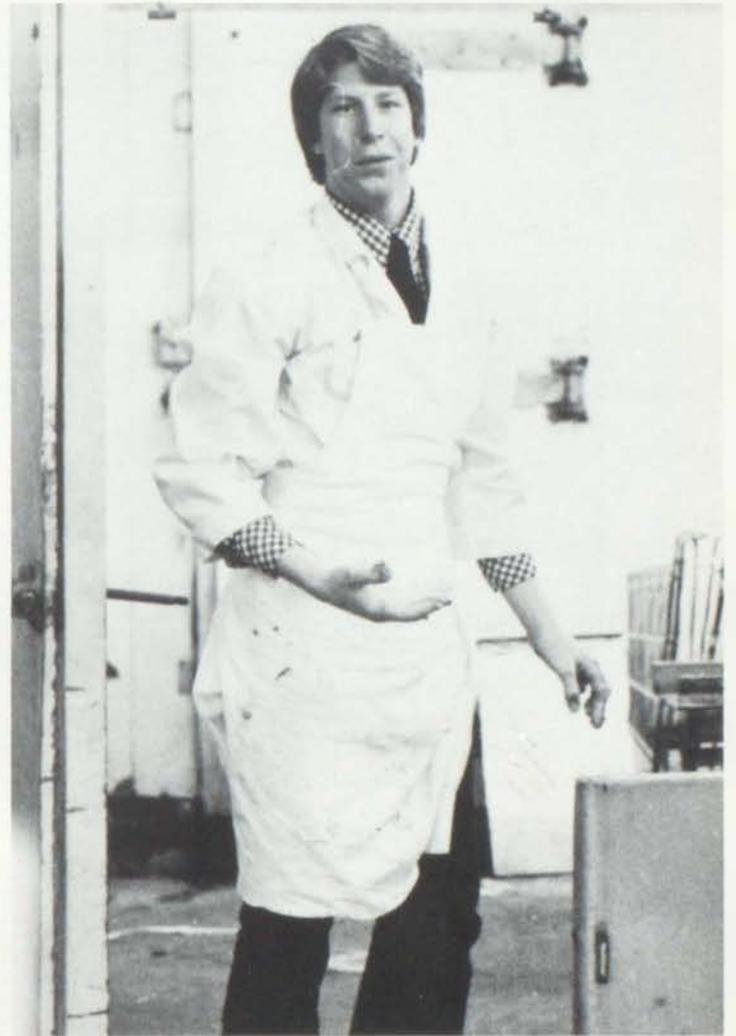

This program has proved very beneficial to the working student because of the work experience he receives.

Another helpful extension of our school is vo-ed, or vocational center. Interested juniors and seniors sign up for this when scheduling for their next year classes. The direct purpose of this program is to prepare students to study related jobs. The vo-ed center, which is located in Battle Creek, provides instruction in 24 different areas of work. Students may attend for one or two years and receive a maximum of three credits a year while still taking classes during the regular school day. Co-op and vo-ed are two very unique and helpful programs that MHS has to offer.

Ringin' up another purchase for one of her customers is Lorie Utter.

Relaxing after working hard at Vo-ed is Ed Wilbur.

Working hard to get his job done is Bob Taylor.

Bagging groceries is part of Eric Earl's job.

Class of '80 Profitable

The class of 1980 had a very profitable and exciting year. The class as a whole accomplished much, which shows in the unity of each junior. The class was represented by John Beery who was president, Vice President Jen Hindenach, and Secretary / Treasurer Pam Searle. These people were members of the MHS Building council as well as Eric Earl, Susan Love, Ray Davis and Annette Zuelke.

Money making projects helped their classes' account grow higher and higher. Selling candy bars was a real success this year. # Assemblies A Cinch for Juniors

Pep assemblies this year for the juniors seemed to be a cinch. They not only won every class competition cheer at the regular assemblies, but also Homecoming and Spirit Festival. The juniors won Homecoming but the road to victory was a difficult one. The seniors were neck and neck all the way to the end but the juniors were the victors by 2 points. Spirit Festival seemed to be a breeze after Homecoming. Winning many of the events the juniors were again winners. With all these accomplishments the juniors should be more than proud.

Sophomores Determined To Unite

The class of 1981 entered the school year, determined to unite with their fellow students early in their high school years. They merged together and soon found the true meaning of class and school spirit. The people who helped organize the sophomores and keep them running smoothly were Angie Kedo as President, Shari McKeever as the Vice President, Tim Goheen took the job of secretary and Building Council reps were Jeff Filbrant, Chris Maybee, Mark Williams and Jolene Flynn.

Sophomores Act Very Business like

The Sophomores took part in many projects and affairs, with the help of their class sponsors Chet Strudevant and Mary Jane Harting. Their first big project was the business-like running of the Football concession stand, where they served fans a variety of refreshments.

Homecoming joined the sophomores close together as a class. And although they only reached a third place overall, the class of '81 learned much from the experience and put forth an immense amount of pride for their school name.

A Big Part of the Student Body

The Freshmen have taken a lot as always, from the upperclassmen. They overcame it though; and took it all in fun, as it was meant to be. The class of 82 reminds everyone constantly to "Watch out for us." And we will all agree that they are a big part of the whole student body.

A Night to Be Remem- bered

Paying tribute to the seniors, the juniors staged J-Hop '79, "A Tropical Paradise." Two months of solid work precipitated to complete the finished product, which was a night to be remembered.

From 9 to 12 o'clock everyone danced to the band "Stage One". After changing, students went on to the post-dance activities of bowling at our own Marshall Lanes, or the movie "Murder by Death".

The junior parents prepared a delicious breakfast of ham and eggs, rolls and juice. The food was donated by Felpausch.

After having chowed sufficiently, most prepared for a day of "fun in the sun" at Warren Dunes. All elements combined for a memorable two days.

Having a great time are Nancy Phillips and Jack Townsend.

Secretaries Keep Things Running

Taking messages and answering phones are just two of the many jobs handled by Mrs. Steward and Mrs. Nantz in the Attendance; Mrs. Taylor in the principal's office; and Mrs. Smith in the counselors office. There are many other duties these people do that don't meet the eye. These ladies schedule appointments and keep Mr. Davis, Mr. Esbaugh and all the counselors on time for the appointments, etc. And everyone involved agrees that they do a good job at it.

Working in the library and with the Instructional Materials are Mrs. Houseman and Mrs. Goodwin.

At the Middle School, Mrs. Marge Aalbregtse is the friendly face you'll see if visiting that office.

The administrators have worked throughout the year to formulate a smooth running administration in the Marshall Public School System.

Teachers Keep Us In Line

Teachers here at Marshall High School must put up with a lot from students. They have to handle the tardiness, the fooling around, and the many excuses to skip. Each teacher has his or her own way of dealing with this. Some of the soft-hearted ones will readily put up with this, but the teachers who don't go with this "spare the rod, spoil the child" attitude are sure to enforce the rules. Either way the teachers here are generally a good group of people, and deserve our respect and cooperation.

In recent years, and especially this year, the M.H.S. faculty has shown more interest in extra-curricular activities such as homecoming, Spirit Festival, J-Hop, and participating in pep assemblies. Many teachers sponsor classes and organizational clubs. They must do all this, yet keep up on their school work.

Student-Teacher Relations

The Faculty' improved participation has promoted a better student-teacher relationship at MHS this year. More importantly, it has helped people to realize that the teachers and administrators do more than come to school five days a week and tell students what to do. They act as part-time counselors and psychologists, not to mention the additional hours of school preparation they do at home.

The year went by so fast I couldn't believe it. No sooner were we making football layouts but then had to start the final touches on graduation. The Dial Staff was excellent and I think it is the best Marshall High will have for a long time. We all worked really well together despite our little differences and I want to thank everyone.

Mr. Sturdevant did a great job this year trying to keep us together and working all the time. People climbing in the ceiling, girls running around doing Dance-O-Grams, and the constant commotion in the Journalism would surely drive any normal human bananas, but Sturd was the greatest — THANKS!

Three people who were hardly in the room 5th hour did a great deal for the book. Brian Yost did a great job selling ads, which enabled us to have spot color in the opening and a few other extras. Thanks a lot, Brian. The copy throughout the book was created by Nora Wynne, who was always ready to write. Lost copy sometimes made Nora have to write things 2 or 3 times, but she was really cooperative about the whole thing. She did an excellent job. I would also like to thank Paul Fleser who helped us out in the darkroom. Paul really came up with some unusual shots for the book.

Lisa Langridge designed the opening and closing plus the dividers, she was one of the hardest workers throughout the year and kept many people going.

The academic and organization sections, which can sometimes be quite boring, were brightened up by Mary Samson and Karen Holibaugh. They did a fine job.

The organizing of candid shots can sometimes be confusing, but Jolene Flynn and Sandra Wilkerson managed to produce a great section of Underclassmen including a page of candid shots for each class.

Francie Russell and Mona Bidwell put together one of the best Student Life sections and both girls helped out a lot with extra jobs.

The Sports section was made by Sara Day and myself. I really enjoyed working with Sara. Her crazy moods could make anyone happy.

The advertising was controlled by Jody Craig and Carole Cascarelli. These girls found advertisers for the book who most people had never even heard of before.

Laura Rietsma was in charge of the faculty and administration. She also worked on the index, which can get pretty messy, but Laura was great!

The men in the darkroom sometimes made me so nervous I couldn't stand it. However, Glen Rauth and Ralph Bess are two of the greatest guys. This book has some excellent photography because of these two.

Last but not least, I want to thank my managing editor, Cindy Conner. She kept my spirits up through the whole year and we really had some great times. The year went fast but everything must come to an end and all I can say is that this staff was super. Good Luck to Francie and Mary who will have the duties of editors next year. IT WAS REAL!

Well . . . We Made It!

Hey everybody, we made it through another year (well, 9 months away). In September, it seemed that nobody would make it. The many weeks that loomed before us looked unending. There were seemingly countless days and nights to be fretted over, planned out, hidden from and looked forward to.

However, with steadily increasing momentum days passed into Friday after Friday, week to week, month to month. The tension reached its breaking point, until finally all the days, weekends, months dissolved into June 8th. The year is ended; the motor of the student body slowly winds down. All the homework, the books, passes, and grades are part of the past. Then the year is over. It's time to say "see ya next year" to good friends, and good-bye and good luck to graduates. A well deserved vacation is in the making, and everyone knows it. But again the orchestra plays on the football field and the red and black gowned seniors march to their last appearance as a class. With determination in their eyes, the tassles are turned and once again everyone wonders "where did the time go?"

The dawn of a new day approaches the park benches surrounding the fountain.

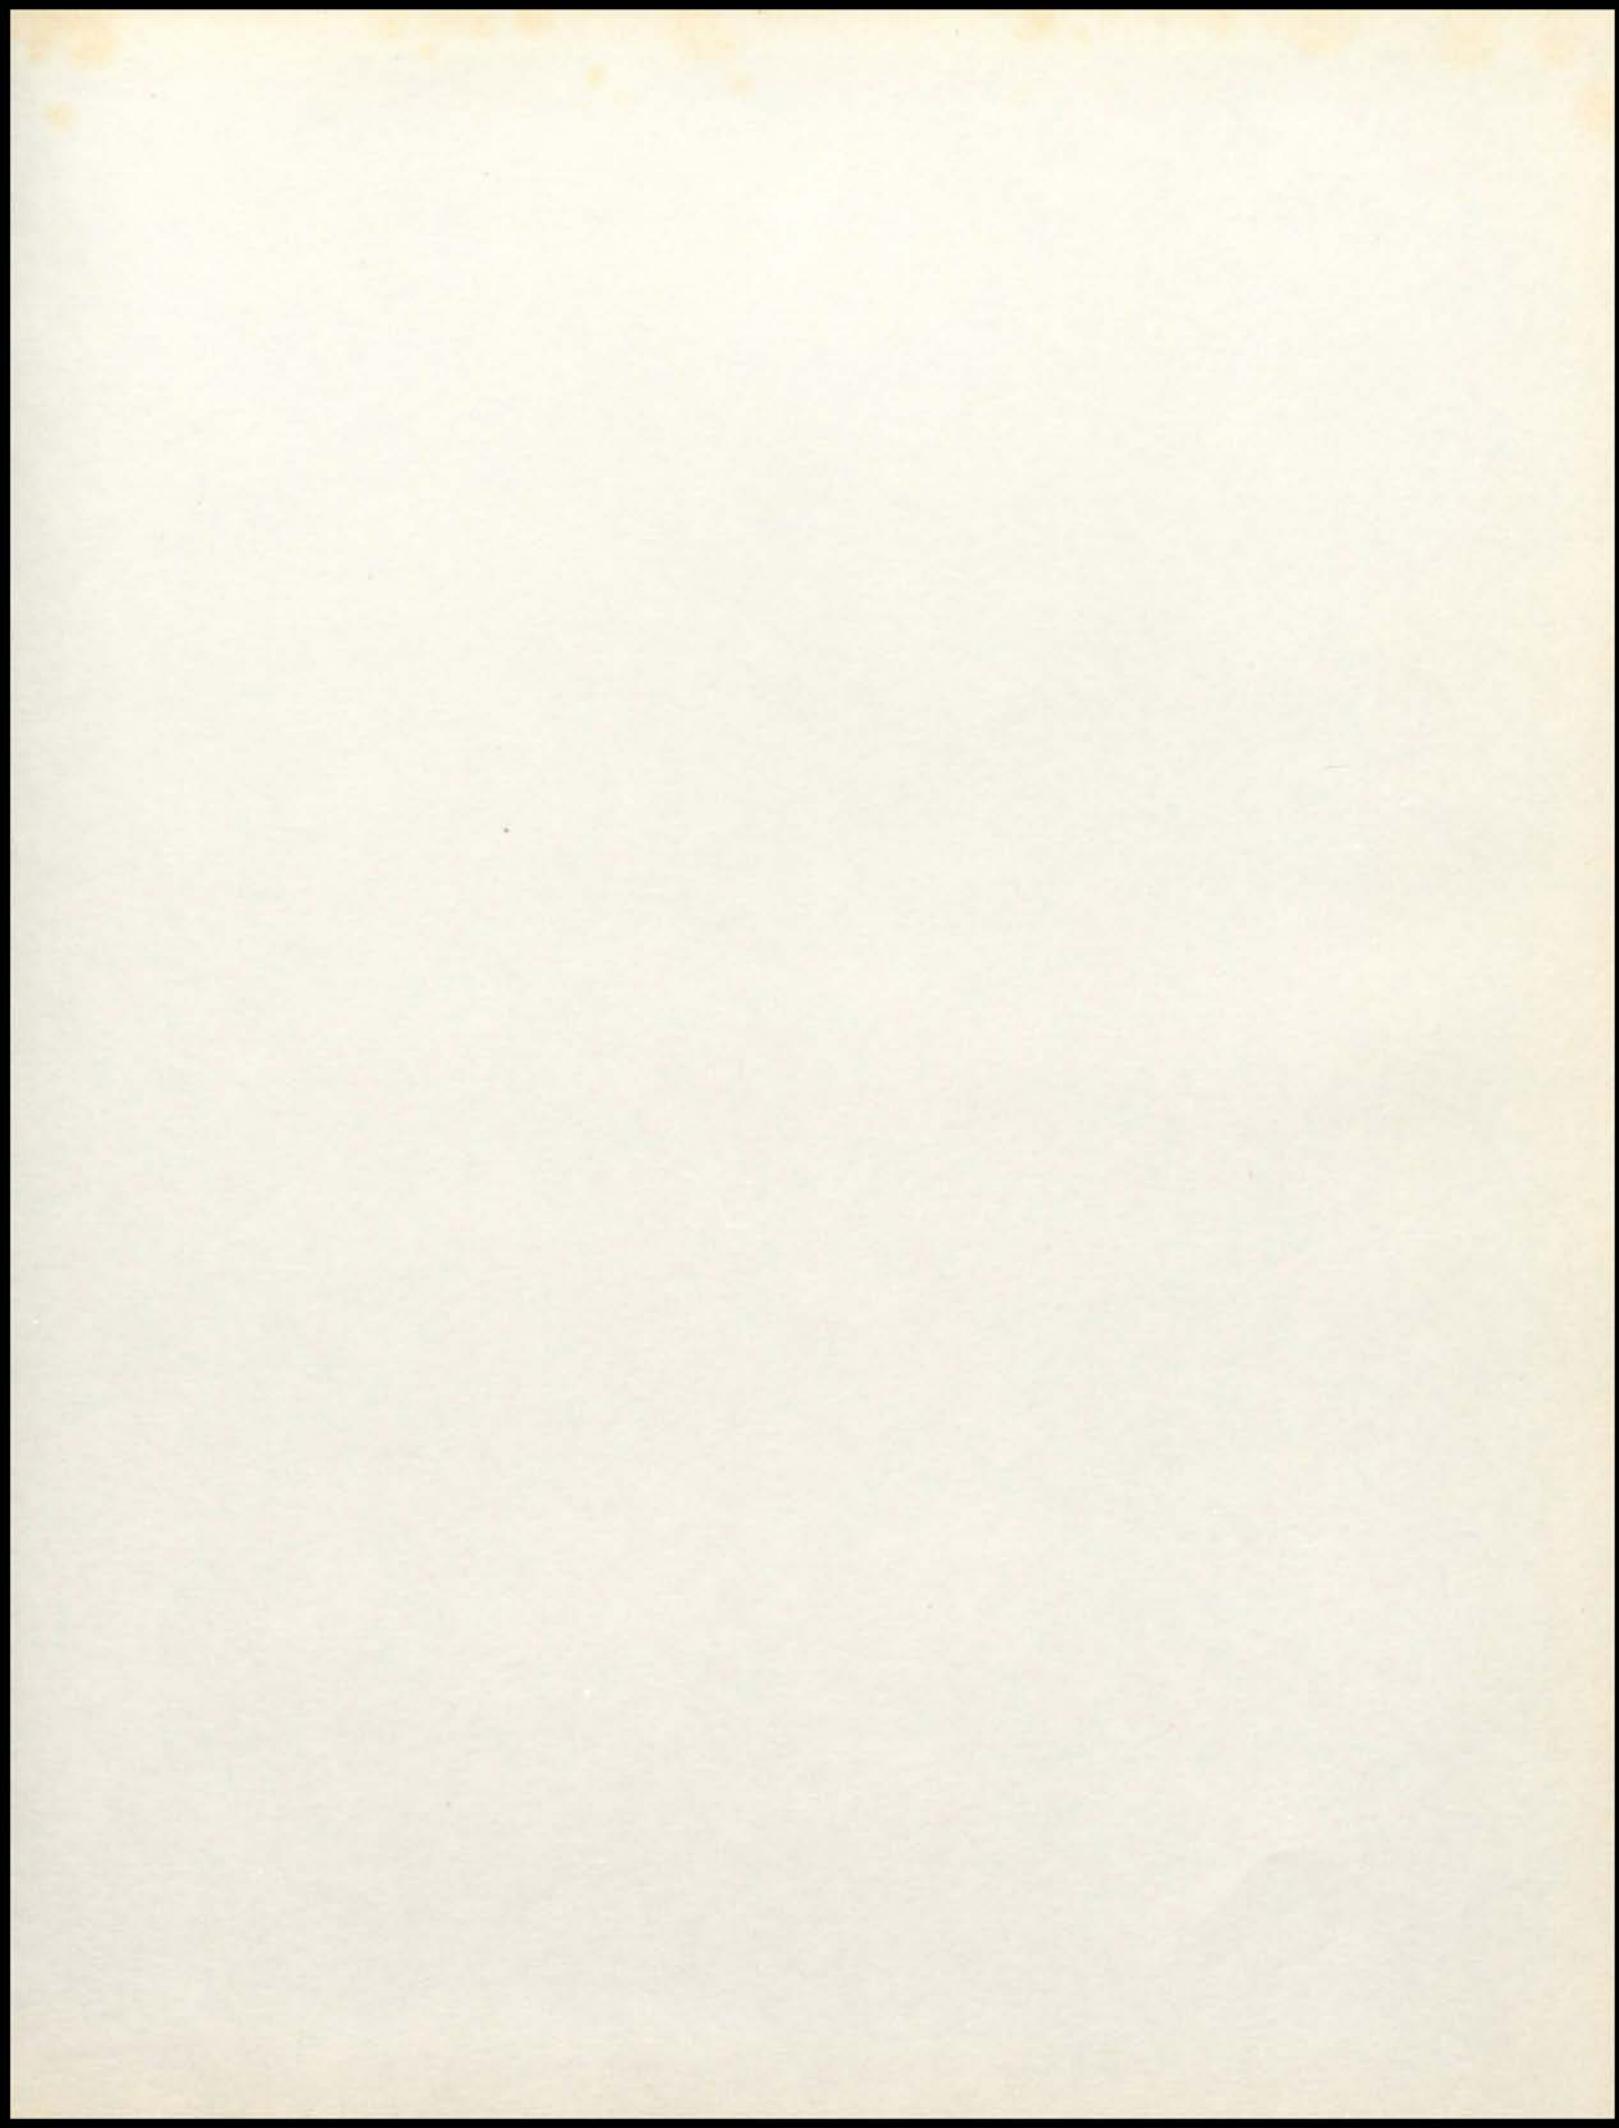

Attending the important post of score marker for spirit festival, Mr. Engle tallies the points.

Displaying some odd chemical concoction is Amy Barger, while other future biologists look on.

Rocking and rolling at the fifties dance are Ralph Bess and Brenda Yost.
