COMMERCIAL MICROWAVES

Distributed by:

ROBAND®

A Microwave to suit your business

Roband Australia proudly presents its range of Robatherm Microwaves, carefully sourced, tested and selected by Roband to meet the demanding needs of Australian commercial kitchens.

Our simple to use range extends from single magnetron light duty models handling the everyday requirements of a commercial kitchen, through to heavy duty dual magnetron models providing busier outlets with efficient, high-volume output throughout the day. All models are programmable and feature easy, intuitive touch button operation. They are all constructed of stainless steel and feature a internal ceramic base.

Specified with the most trusted commercial magnetrons, proven quality components and backed by Roband Australia's highly regarded after sales support, you can be confident purchasing a Robatherm Commercial Microwave.

Light and medium duty models are covered by a 1 year parts and labour warranty, whilst the heavy duty options are covered by a 2 year parts and 1 year labour warranty.

Even cooking and heating results

What makes a Robatherm Microwave so great?

All Robatherm microwaves are designed and built to withstand the high demands placed on them in commercial environments. All models feature:

- Consistent and even cooking / heating ensuring quality results for your customers
- Programmable menus with multi-staged cooking for efficient, consistent results
- Capable of back to back cooking with minimised performance degradation
- Internal concealed and protected stirrer/s that effectively distribute the microwaves to the food
- Robust construction and commercial grade components to withstand continuous loads, deliver more power, with more longevity
- A static ceramic base (no turntable)
 - Easy to clean
 - Faster & more even cooking when combined with the internal stirrer/s
- Higher power than domestic microwaves for faster cooking times / more efficient service

Specified To Deliver

Robatherm microwaves have undergone extensive testing to achieve consistent, even cooking and heating results. Furthermore, the construction of the microwave includes steel door and door hinge construction, ceramic oven cavity base and a quality aluminium door handle, all contributing to the durable, high quality standard expected of any product supplied by Roband Australia.
