Description

The NCBACB is a Code Call pushbutton station that provides the ability to place a supervised Code Blue call. It is normally located at a patient room head wall within a CCU, LDRP, or ICU, or anywhere a Code station is required. The NCBACB directly drives a local NCCLS6 corridor lamp bulb and supervises one bulb for open and shorts. The associated Control Station supervises the NCBACB for both power and data. A separate lamp driver output is provided to support an additional unsupervised corridor lamp. The NCBACB must be associated with a local NCCLS6 corridor lamp for the bulb supervision feature to operate.
