I tried enabled all notifications, allows location for WhatsApp, experiencing the problem while connecting for Wifi and cellular both. please consult steps to solve the problem Sep 24, 2020 12:07 Useful Response Thread Response – more options October 1, 2020 10:23 in response to hfarekh1982 In response to zaparekh1982 I am also experiencing the same problem over WiFi calling on WhatsApp. This issue started posting iOS 14 version update and there is no fix to it yet. Checked with WhatsApp developers, there are no problems at the end of them as the same thing is working on another user's iPhone. This is definitely a bug in iOS 14 that Apple needs to fix as soon as possible. It is very frustrating not to be able to use the fav app. Oct 1, 2020 10:23 Response Useful Thread Response - more options 08:44 in response to saurabh38 In response to saurabh38 Same problem here. whatsapp calls wi-fi used to work. I hung up the phone, then I turned it on again. I tried to forget the WiFi network, then I reconnected. All the notifications were already on, so I turned them off and then back on. WhatsApp and iOS are up to date. Whatsapp calls only work on data. WhatsApp calls won't work on WiFi – once making or answering a call, then say reconnect to (name) with recurring beep sound. It will reconnect for a second and then went back to reconnecting again. whatsapp messaging will work on data and information. please help! Thank. Oct 3, 2020 08:44 Useful Response Thread Response – More options 09:49 in response to JulieMango345 In response to JulieMango345 As per Apple support team, they are putting this issue on the app developers of I told them that this has nothing to do with the application as it is working well over the cellular network. Apple needs to check with their iOS developers on a priority basis because the number of affected users are day by day. From the beta version this issue was highlighted then why Apple developers have not worked on this issue. It's a serious problem. I have the same problem. Were you able to resolve the problem? If so, ? Nov 9, 2020 7:45 Useful response Thread response – more options If someone tries to call you on WhatsApp while you are already on a WhatsApp voice or video call, you will receive a notification depending on the type of call, and you can choose to answer or decline the call. This will not interrupt the existing call. If someone is calling you on WhatsAppYou can select from the following options:End & Accept: End the call you are currently calling and accept the call you've received. Decline: Decline the received call and stay in the current call. If calls you from outside WhatsApp while sitting you with a WhatsApp voice or video call, you can tap:Answer: Finish the call you and accept the call received. Decline: Decline the received call and stay in the current call. On-screen call. Ask your Google Assistant to check your call and ask who's calling and why. Note: Depending on your carrier, you may receive charges for calls made outside of WhatsApp. You may also receive charges for voice or video calls made on WhatsApp if you use data roaming or if you have exceeded your data limit. When you're having problems with WhatsApp calls, try connecting to another network (such as Wi-Fi instead of mobile data or vice versa). The current network may not be configured correctly for UDP (User Datagram Protocol), which may prevent WhatsApp calling from working correctly. If you are unable to make or receive WhatsApp calls after connecting to your Wi-Fi connection, make sure that your router's security settings and firewall configuration do not block certain types of connections for WhatsApp Calling to work correctly. If you have additional questions about UDP or Firewall settings, contact your service provider or network administrator for more information. The battery saver and bluetooth connection can also cause problems with WhatsApp calls. If the battery saver is turned on or bluetooth is connected, try turning them off and letting us know if the problem persists. Additionally, restart your device and make sure that no other apps are using your microphone, headset, or camera. Please let us know if you experience the same problem on other apps as well as WhatsApp. Voice calling allows you to call your contacts using WhatsApp for free, even if they are located in another country.
